V10N3

March 2012

Welcome to the V10N3 March 2012 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter. This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly. Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report
Awareness Watch™ Spotters
Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review
Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that “change” is the only thing that will remain constant!!

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

This month’s featured report is a special report on my latest research and the associated report/article that has been placed on line through my <http://WhitePapers.us/> . The title of my report is Academic and Scholar Search Engines and Sources. This comprehensive report comprises hundreds of reliable sources to assist you in identifying the best academic and scholar search engines available from the Internet. Each resource is listed along with description and direct URL to access from the Internet. The information is taken from my constantly updated and expanded annotated white paper titled Academic and Scholar Search Engines and Sources and available directly online at:

Academic and Scholar Search Engines and Sources

An Internet MiniGuide Annotated Link Compilation

By

Marcus P. Zillman, M.S., A.M.H.A.
Executive Director – Virtual Private Library
zillman@virtualprivatelibrary.com

This Internet MiniGuide Annotated Link Compilation is dedicated to the latest and most competent academic and scholar search engines and sources. With the constant addition of new and pertinent information coming online every second it is very easy to go into information overload. The true key is to be able to find the important academic and scholarly information both in the visible and invisible world wide web. The following selected academic and scholar search engines and sources offer excellent information retrieval and extraction to help you accomplish your research goals!

Academic Archive Online - DiVA

<http://www.diva-portal.se/index.xsql?lang=en>

In DiVA you can find theses, dissertations and other publications in full-text from a number of Nordic universities. The publications are stored in pdf which requires Acrobat Reader to open and print them. DiVA has been developed by the Electronic Publishing Centre at Uppsala university library.

Academic Earth - Thousands of Video Lectures From the World's Top Scholars

<http://academicearth.org/>

Academic Earth is an organization founded with the goal of giving everyone on earth access to a world-class education. As more and more high quality educational content becomes available online for free, we ask ourselves, what are the real barriers to achieving a world class education? At Academic Earth, they are working to identify these barriers and find innovative ways to use technology to increase the ease of learning. They are building a user-friendly educational ecosystem that will give internet users around the world the ability to easily find, interact with, and learn from full video courses and lectures from the world's leading scholars.

Academic Index

<http://www.academicindex.net/>

The Academic Index was created and is maintained by Dr. Michael Bell, former chair, Texas Association of School Librarians. The Academic Index is a true meta-search tool that includes results from mega-information databases that index only research-quality reference and information sources selected by professional librarians, educators, and educational and library consortia. At the present time the Academic Index provides access to approximately 137,000 quality information web pages.

Academic Info

<http://www.AcademicInfo.net/>

A comprehensive searchable database of academic subject gateways and information as well as an educational subject directory.

AcaWiki - Democratization of Academic Knowledge

<http://acawiki.org/>

AcaWiki offers a web 2.0 way of interacting with the public to increase impact. Research often languishes in academic journals, perhaps read only a few times by infrequent visitors. AcaWiki allows scholars to increase the impact of their research by enabling them to share summaries, long abstracts and literature reviews of their peer-reviewed work online.

AgEcon Search: Research in Agricultural and Applied Economics

<http://agecon.lib.umn.edu/>

AgEcon Search collects, indexes, and electronically distributes full text copies of scholarly research in the broadly defined field of agricultural economics including sub disciplines such as agribusiness, food supply, natural resource economics, environmental economics, policy issues, agricultural trade, and economic development.

All Academic: An Academic Search Engine and Index

<http://www.all-academic.com/>

All Academic Search™ - is a collection of peer-reviewed conference proceedings and journal articles from the social sciences. This full-text library is an essential tool for students and scholars interested in the social sciences. The database contains refereed primary research from conventions, journals, and other sources

AmericanSouth.org

<http://www.AmericanSouth.org/>

Free comprehensive scholarly discovery service for research materials related to the cultures and histories of the American South. Also a newly created project that should be followed is <http://www.MetaArchive.org/>

Arc – A Cross Archive Search Service

<http://arc.cs.odu.edu/>

Arc is an experimental research service of Digital Library Research group at Old Dominion University. Arc is used to investigate issues in harvesting OAI compliant repositories and making them accessible through a unified search interface. It is not a

Archival Search Engines

<http://www.tulane.edu/~lmiller/search.htm>

A list of search engines for searching archives located throughout the Internet. This list is available through the Special Collections Division of the Howard-Tilton Memorial Library of Tulane University. An excellent starting point for searching archives.

Archive Finder

<http://archives.chadwyck.com/marketing/index.jsp>

Archive Finder brings together ArchivesUSA and the cumulative index to the National Inventory of Documentary Sources in the UK and Ireland (NIDS UK/Ireland), previously available on CD-ROM. ArchivesUSA is a current directory of over 5,500 repositories and more than 161,000 collections of primary source material across the United States.

ArchiveGrid - Historical Archives from Throughout the World

<http://www.archivegrid.org/web/index.jsp>

ArchiveGrid is an important destination for searching through historical documents, personal papers, and family histories held in archives around the world. Thousands of libraries, museums, and archives have contributed nearly a million collection descriptions to ArchiveGrid. Researchers searching ArchiveGrid can learn about the many items in each of these collections, contact archives to arrange a visit to examine materials, and order copies.

Archives Hub

<http://www.archiveshub.ac.uk/>

The Archives Hub provides a single point of access to 18,420 descriptions of archives held in UK universities and colleges. At present these are primarily at collection-level, although complete catalogue descriptions are provided where they are available.

ARL Directory of Scholarly Electronic Journals and Academic Discussion Lists

<http://dsej.arl.org/dsej/>

A directory of Scholarly Electronic Journals and Academic Discussion Lists created by the Association of Research Libraries with the first edition printed 2000. The online version was updated after the first edition but now the online version is not updated. Still an interesting resource with some excellent listservs® that are academic based!

ARROW Discovery Service - Search Australian Research Repositories

<http://search.arrow.edu.au/>

The ARROW Discovery Service is where you can search 146,945 Australian research outputs, including theses; preprints; postprints; journal articles; book chapters; music recordings and pictures. The ARROW Discovery Service searches simultaneously across the contents of Australian university research repositories.

integrated access to distributed collections of various type and format (digitised collections, institutional repositories, pre-print-servers, electronic journals etc.). A "BASE Mathematics" Demonstrator will be following shortly. The demonstrators can only give a first glance on the potential of search engine technology in the context of scholarly search- and retrieval services.

Behavioral and Brain Sciences (BBS)

<http://www.bbsonline.org/>

BBS publishes important and controversial interdisciplinary articles in psychology, neuroscience, behavioral biology, cognitive science, artificial intelligence, linguistics and philosophy. Articles are rigorously refereed and, if accepted, are circulated to a large number of potential commentators around the world in the various specialties on which the article impinges. Their 1000-word commentaries are then co-published with the target article as well as the author's response to each. The commentaries consist of analyses, elaborations, complementary and supplementary data and theory, criticisms and cross-specialty syntheses.

Bioline International

<http://www.bioline.org.br/>

Bioline International is currently working with publishers and editors to promote the provision of journal material on an open-access basis. The website now features more than fifteen journals that are all available in full-text, HTML format, absolutely free. Over upcoming months, Bioline will be working with existing and new publishers, hoping to increase the volume of quality scientific material that will be offered free of charge over the Bioline system. In addition to peer reviewed journals, Bioline provides a range of other material of interest to bioscientists (reports, books, technical documents, conference proceedings and newsletters). All material relates to such disciplines as biotechnology, biodiversity, environmental and ecological sciences, food/agriculture/veterinary science, medicine, microbiology and taxonomy.

BioMedSearch - Biomedical Search Engine

<http://www.biomedsearch.com/>

BioMedSearch is a biomedical search engine that contains NIH/PubMed documents, plus a large collection of theses, dissertations, and other publications not found anywhere else for free, making it the most comprehensive free search on the web. BioMedSearch also provides advanced account features that allow saved searches, alerts, saving documents to portfolios, commenting on documents and portfolios, and sharing documents with other registered users. Registering for BioMedSearch is free. Enhancing BioMedSearch further is an ongoing project.

From your search results, the Journal title is a link to more in-depth information about the Journal and publisher. If available, click on the Table of Contents, TOC button, and drill down to the 'article' level.

DOE Green Energy

<http://www.osti.gov/greenenergy>

Green energy-related research and development (R&D) results are now more easily accessible through a new online portal, DOE Green Energy. The free public portal was launched on the 40th Anniversary of Earth Day by the U.S. Department of Energy(DOE) Office of Scientific and Technical Information(OSTI) within the Office of Science. The site is designed to ease access to green energy R&D information for use by researchers, scientists, educators, students and the general public. Researchers can use the DOE Green Energy portal to speed scientific discovery and innovation; business and industry can use the R&D to stimulate economic growth related to renewable energy. Educators, students, and the public can discover applications of renewable energy science and energy efficiency best practices. The portal provides technical documents from thousands of R&D projects conducted at DOE National Laboratories and by DOE-funded awards at universities.

PARSE.Insight - Permanent Access to the Records of Science in Europe

<http://www.parse-insight.eu/>

PARSE.Insight is a two-year project co-funded by the European Union under the Seventh Framework Programme. It is concerned with the preservation of digital information in science, from primary data through analysis to the final publications resulting from the research. The problem is how to safeguard this valuable digital material over time, to ensure that it is accessible, usable and understandable in future. The rapid pace of change in information technology threatens media, file formats and software with obsolescence, and changing concepts and terminology also mean that, even if data can be read, it might not be correctly interpreted by future generations.

Q-Sensei - Searching Millions of Scholarly Articles

<http://lambda.qsensei.com/>

Q-Sensei introduces a new way of making information accessible. Their goal is to provide advanced search tools for the vast amount of information available on the Internet, in books, research articles, blogs, news, or wikis. They currently provide access to the first several million scholarly articles. Q-Sensei's approach applies innovative search technologies to various heterogeneous data pools; their users can easily browse through a data source as well as discover cross-references between individual records. The data on the Q-Sensei web site is compiled from the Internet and from our content partners. They process the data and extract information to be displayed within a scheme of Kinds and Attributes. The results can be easily and intuitively accessed with Q-Sensei's patented Search and Presentation engine. Their technology supports multi-dimensional searches, gives further search suggestions, and provides clear and concise overviews of the current stage of the search.

RADAR - Open Searchable Archive of Brookes Research

<http://radar.brookes.ac.uk/radar/>

RADAR provides both an open searchable archive of Brookes research, and a flexible way to manage and share teaching materials. It forms part of the university's strategy to support research-informed teaching.

Ranking Web of World Repositories

<http://repositories.webometrics.info/>

As in the previous edition they provide two global Rankings. One that covers all repositories (Top400) and another that focuses only on Institutional Repositories (Top 400 Institutional). They are considering to include in future editions portals of journals and papers (super repositories). The composite index (World Ranking) is computed combining normalized values instead of ranks. The visibility is calculated giving extra importance to the external inlinks not coming from generic domains (.com, .org, .net). The figures for rich files (pdf, doc, ppt, ps, and new for this edition, xls) are combined and not treated individually.

RDN – ePrints UK Project

<http://eprints-uk.rdn.ac.uk/>

ePrints-UK harvests metadata from approximately 30 institutional repositories on a daily basis. A demonstration of a simple search service based on the harvested metadata has been made available now. In future the project intends to enhance metadata available for searching by means of name authority file checks and automatic subject classification.

Registry of U.S. Government Publication Digitization Projects

projects in the Registry are either entirely composed of digitized, U.S. Government publications or include a substantial number of them.

Regulations.gov - Search

<http://www.regulations.gov/search/index.jsp>

Regulations.gov is your source for all regulations (or rulemakings) issued by U.S. government agencies. On this site, you can find: a) All Federal regulations that are open for public comment (i.e., proposed rules) and closed for comment (i.e., final rules) as published in the Federal Register; b) Many Federal agency notices published in the Federal Register; and c) Additional supporting materials, public comments, and Federal agency guidance and adjudications. When you find a document, you can also submit comments through the web site on those documents that are open for public comment.

Renardus

<http://www.renarcus.org/>

Renardus allows you to find Internet resources selected according to quality criteria and carefully described by Subject Gateways from several European countries. You discover the individual resources and collections by searching and browsing these descriptions (metadata), not the full text of the resources themselves. Having selected the most relevant ones informed by the descriptions you can use the URL's provided to go to the original resources. A special feature of Renardus is the option to "Browse by Subject" through hierarchical trees of topics and subsequently to jump to one or several related subcollections of the contributing Subject gateways. The Renardus partner gateways cover about 64000 predominantly digital web-based resources from within most areas of academic interest, mainly written in English.

RePEc (Research Papers in Economics)

<http://repec.org/>

RePEc (Research Papers in Economics) is a collaborative effort of hundreds of volunteers in 71 countries to enhance the dissemination of research in economics. The heart of the project is a decentralized database of working papers, journal articles and software components. All RePEc material is freely available. The RePEc database holds over 945,000 items of interest, over 815,000 of which are available online.

Repositories of Primary Sources

<http://www.uidaho.edu/special-collections/Other.Repositories.html>

A listing of over 5000 websites describing holdings of manuscripts, archives, rare books, historical photographs, and other primary sources for the research scholar. ## SAGE Open

<http://www.sagepub.com/sageopen/landing.sp>

SAGE Open is a new open access publication from SAGE. It will publish peer-reviewed, original research and review articles in an interactive, open access format. Articles may span the full spectrum of the social and behavioral sciences and the humanities. SAGE Open seeks to be the world's premier open access outlet for academic research. As such, unlike traditional journals, SAGE Open does not limit content due to page budgets or thematic significance. Rather, SAGE Open evaluates the scientific and research methods of each article for validity and accepts articles solely on the basis of the research. This approach allows readers greater access and gives them the power to determine the significance of each article through SAGE Open's interactive comments feature and article-level usage metrics. Likewise, by not restricting papers to a narrow discipline, SAGE Open facilitates the discovery of the connections between papers, whether within or between disciplines.

Sail-eprints

TalkMiner - Search Inside Video Lectures and Talks

<http://talkminer.com/>

Lecture webcasts are readily available on the Internet. These include class lectures, research seminars and product demonstrations. Webcasts routinely combine presentation slides with either a synchronized audio stream (i.e., podcast) or an audio/video stream. Conventional web search engines retrieve this content if you include "webcast" or "lecture" among your search terms, or search a website that specifically organizes lecture content. But users, particularly students, want to find the place in a lecture when an instructor covers a specific topic. Answering these queries requires a search engine that can search within the webcast to identify important keywords. TalkMiner aggregates and indexes lecture videos available across the internet.

TechXtra - Indepth Academic and Scholar Search

<http://www.techxtra.ac.uk/>

TechXtra is a suite of ten freely available services which simplify access to a multitude of different types of technology information from a host of different sources. TechXtra facilitates immediate access to the freely available full-text content of hundreds of thousands of eprints, technical reports, theses, articles, news items, job announcements and more. In cases where the full-text is not freely available, TechXtra provides links to vendors for pay-per-view options. TechXtra searches a combination of digital repositories, journal databases, technical reports servers, web information, news sources and more, all with a focus on technology information.

Tech InfoBase

<http://cma.zdnet.com/tehis/techinfobase/techinfobase>

BizTech Library is an important resource for professionals searching for the latest research on business and technology trends in their industry. With ZDNet BizTech Library you gain access to thousands of specialized articles and abstracts

The Advanced Applications Database: Query/Search

<http://dast.nlanr.net/Clearinghouse/Query.htm>

The NLANR Advanced Applications Database is an online resource that provides access to information about networked research and education projects, applications, and resources that are related. You can view information about the more than 2,400 projects entered in the AAD by using keyword searches or preformatted reports.

The Getty Search Gateway

<http://search.getty.edu/gateway/landing>

The Getty Search Gateway allows users to search across several of the Getty repositories, including collections databases, library catalogs, collection inventories, and archival finding aids. This tool is designed to help researchers, scholars, and educators discover the variety of resources available across the Getty's collections, which include collections in each the four programs: the J. Paul Getty Museum, the Getty Conservation Institute, the Getty Foundation, and the Getty Research Institute.

The Virtual Learning Resources Center

<http://www.virtuallrc.com/>

The Virtual Learning Resources Center facilitates students in their search for quality information for school and college academic projects. There are many quality sites on the Web that provide actual information or links to information covering a variety of subjects. At the present time the Virtual LRC indexes approximately 9,000 quality information web pages, all selected by librarians and teachers.

ThoughtMesh - Publishing and Discovering Scholarly Papers Online

<http://thoughtmesh.net/>

ThoughtMesh is an unusual model for publishing and discovering scholarly papers online. It gives readers a tag-based navigation system that uses keywords to connect excerpts of essays published on different Web sites. Add your essay to the mesh, and ThoughtMesh gives you a traditional navigation menu plus a tag cloud that enables nonlinear access to text excerpts. You can navigate across excerpts both within the original essay and from related essays distributed across the mesh.

Xstructure - arXiv Search

<http://xstructure.inr.ac.ru/> arXiv ePrint Archive from Cornell University is Open access to 525,110 e-prints in Physics, Mathematics, Computer Science, Quantitative Biology, Quantitative Finance and Statistics. Among the features of Xstructure are: a) Automated generation of hierarchical classification scheme for the papers. The scheme results from classification of the papers in the arxiv database. The only input for the classification is the citation graph. The number of the levels in the hierarchy and the number of the clusters is determined by the algorithm. The algorithm creates the classification scheme, and indexes the papers by the created classification; b) The classification is used to index the new papers. We plan to rebuild the classification scheme regularly. In this way, we will take into account that appearance of new papers may lead to emergence of new themes. Detection of new themes is one of our objectives; c) A number of extra attributes (e.g. Theme name, Authority and Review Articles, etc.) for the elements (themes) of the classification (see Help); and d) Accessibility of the classification in response to search requests via display options, e.g., display as Tree of Themes, and Reference (Citation) Tree. About 10% of papers from arxiv are missed in their database.

Peerage of Science - Community of Scientists and Peer Review Web Application

<http://www.peerageofscience.org/>

Peerage of Science is a community of scientists from 27 countries and over 200 institutions around the world. You may well recognise some of the over 500 Peers. Peerage of Science also involves participating journals and supporting institutions. Also, check out what the community is talking about in the blog. You can become a Peer via an invitation from a Peer. The other way to join the community is through peer review. Send a manuscript, and if Peers consider your manuscript deserving scientific peer review you become, by definition, a Peer. Peerage of Science is a web service for automatically controlled, standardized, rigorous, fully anonymous scientific peer review. The service offers Authors a way to focus on science, Reviewers a way to directly benefit from the work they do, Editors a way to proactive, efficient and less time-consuming decisions, and Publishers a competitive advantage. Funders, institutions and society as a whole benefit from better use and allocation of resources via better evaluation of science. Peerage of Science Ltd is a company in Jyväskylä, Finland, founded, owned and governed by scientists. Proud to be a different company, the primary purpose of Peerage of Science is to "foster and develop the practice of science, as well as the conditions, societal standing and evaluation thereof, while promoting the interests of the researchers registered as users of the Company's services". ## CrowdSpoke - Community Powered News Platform

<http://crowdspoke.com/>

Crowdspoke is a community-powered news platform where people collectively share and curate the best, up-to-date information about topics in real-time. Contributing is fun and easy – every time you pick the best (and worst) articles, images, videos, and tweets, you help share better information with the entire community. They created Crowdspoke in order to address 2 big pains with real-time information: first, when there is a big news event such as a disaster, a political uprising, or a major sporting event, so much content is produced so quickly that it is nearly impossible to get a sense of what's the most important information. Algorithms are at the heart of most solutions (including theirs), but they only go so far, and they believe the problem of information overload is best solved by human curators acting together, in real-time, with powerful tools. The second pain they are trying to address is the difficulty of discovering content in smaller, niche communities. For example, if you love rock climbing, how do you discover fresh content and news related to that topic? Do you follow specific blogs, hashtags, or users on Twitter? How do you know you have the best sources, or even enough sources to really get a holistic view? The Live Stream on our Rock Climbing page combines sources from expert and passionate community members, continuously curated by everyone to maintain the freshest and most relevant information. The result is one of the best ways to discover content on the Web about the topics you care about. ### World Economic Situation and Prospects All Issues Since 1999

<https://www.un.org/en/development/desa/policy/wesp/archive.shtml>

As part of the Secretary-General's programme for reform in the late 1990s, it was decided that DESA and UNCTAD should produce a joint report on the world economic situation and prospects. The first such joint report was issued as World Economic Situation and Prospects (WESP) in 1999. Initially, WESP functioned as a year-end update of the World Economic and Social Survey (WESS), until 2004 when the latter started to focus exclusively on thematic issues. Since 2005, WESP has served as the lead publication in the annual discussion of current economic trends and prospects. The five United Nations regional commissions also joined as contributors in that year. A mid-year update of WESP has been produced every summer since 2006. ## Tradyo - Buy, Sell and Barter On a Very Local Level

<https://tradyo.com/>

Tradyo is a free mobile app that enables you to buy, sell and barter on a very local level. Whether you are interested in posting your garden produce, handicrafts, haircutting skills or all of that cool stuff gathering dust in your closet, you can find a loving home for it in your neighbourhood (or whichever 'tradius' you choose to explore). Tradyo acts like a treasure hunt - a StumbleUpon for tangible things. You never know what you'll find or who you'll meet in the process, but you can keep in touch through the app if you discover a great trade buddy! Tradyo is the result of a great experiment in Canadian entrepreneurship. The Co-Founders met each other in the first installment of the Next 36. This team had a vision to create something impactful and zeroed in on the amassed value

Test the Load Time of a Web Page

<http://tools.pingdom.com/fpt/>

They built this Full Page Test tool to help you analyze the load speed of your websites and learn how to make them faster. It lets you identify what about a web page is fast, slow, too big, what best practices you're not following, and so on. They have tried to make it useful both to experts and novices alike. In short, they wanted it to be a free, easy-to-use tool to help webmasters and web developers everywhere optimize the performance of their websites. Feature Overview include: a) Examine all parts of a web page – View file sizes, load times, and other details about every single element of a web page (HTML, JavaScript and CSS files, images, etc.). You can sort and filter this list in different ways to identify performance bottlenecks; b) Performance overview – They automatically put together plenty of performance-related statistics for you based on the test result; c) Performance grade and tips – See how your website conforms to performance best practices from Google Page Speed (similar to Yahoo's Yslow). You can get some great tips on how to speed up your website this way; d) Trace your performance history – They save each test for you so you can review it later and also see how things change over time (with pretty charts!); e) Test from multiple locations – See how fast a website loads in Europe, the United States, etc.; f) Share your results – They have made it easy for you to perform a test and share it with your friends, work colleagues or web host. All tests are done with real web browsers, so the results match the end-user experience exactly. They use a bunch of instances of Google's Chrome web browser to load websites, record performance data, and so on. Tests are done from dedicated Pingdom servers. ## ShoppingBots and Online Shopping Resources 2012

<http://www.ShoppingBots.info/>

The latest research shows that when prospects search for your company on the Internet, the top 10 listings are likely to include the following:

- a) 3 listings from consumer posts to blogs, message boards, and opinion sites,
- b) 2 listings from experts,
- c) 2 listings from your own corporate site,
- d) 1 listing from an online publication, and
- e) 2 listings from other sources.

This confirms the need for immediate business intelligence to constantly monitor and evaluate the prospects ongoing searching results for your company, brand, and product. Marcus P. Zillman, M.S., A.M.H.A., Executive Director of the Virtual Private Library™, Internet expert, author, speaker, consultant and creator/founder of BotSpot.com will be speaking on The Future of the Internet: eCommerce Security, Cloud Computing, HTML5 and IPV6 with emphasis on the growing areas of bots, intelligent agents, blogs (weblogs), news aggregators, business intelligence, artificial intelligence, RSS, Twitter, FaceBook MashUps, Grids/Clouds, Social Networks and the Web 3.0 . The Internet's future is both theoretical and practical and will relate to all that gather in cyberspace to continue education and to keep current! We truly live in exciting times ..... Will Mash-Ups and the Web 3.0 replace the current Internet as we know it? These and other questions will be discussed during this presentation by one of the Internet's pioneers and bot and artificial intelligence experts, Marcus P. Zillman. ### What the Trend

<http://whattrend.com/>

What the Trend helps you find out what's trending on Twitter and why. They are "The front page of the real-time web™." When a new topic becomes popular on Twitter, it's listed as a "trending topic." These topics may take the form of short phrases (i.e. Michael Jackson) or hashtags (i.e. #iranelection). What the Trend provides a constantly updated list of trending topics from Twitter and allows you and thousands of other people across the world to explain, in a few short sentences, why this item is interesting or important to people right now. Sometimes, it may be a breaking news story. Sometimes it's just for fun. Either way, their users do a great job of coming up with short, accurate descriptions of why that item is popular. Their vetted descriptions are syndicated to a broad range of websites and applications. You can see WTT definitions on Twitter.com, in Tweetie or Twittelator for the iPhone, on Trendsmap on the web, or in many other places. ## Local 109.in - Question and Answer Local India Platform

<http://www.local109.in/>

Local 109.in is but a reflection of the rapidly changing lifestyles and mindset of the current Indian society. What started off as a speculation for the rising information needs of local India has taken shape to be India's first Local web concept. Hypothetically, local109.in could be imagined as a super-specific information churning or a collection of vertical directories, but realistically speaking, it is way more than that. Local109 attempts to answer the who, what, where, how, when and why of all major cities of India. And it does so through some smart collaborative moves and ground-breaking information sourcing programs. Local 109 is targeted at just about everybody who uses the internet for pulling out information. The Aim of local109 remains, to provide local info you can use. It publishes info with stringent quality checks and ensures that information you are about to use is not only correct but also exhaustive and articulate. The last known commercially used radio frequency ends at 108. The number 109 represents the next level of frequency or as in our case, the next wave of information usage. As the amount of access to the internet is increasing, it's observed that there is a shift of interest of users from generic to particulate or minute information sourcing. Interests such as finding the best deal in one's locality or for that matter finding a stylist for your kind of hair, all packaged under one phenomenon, Local109.in. ### HTTrack - Free Easy To Use Offline Browser Utility

<http://www.httrack.com/>

HTTrack is a free (GPL, libre/free software) and easy-to-use offline browser utility. It allows you to download a World Wide Web site from the Internet to a local directory, building recursively all directories, getting HTML, images, and other files from the server to your computer. HTTrack arranges the original site's relative link-structure. Simply open a page of the "mirrored" website in your browser, and you can browse the site from link to link, as if you were viewing it online. HTTrack can also update an existing mirrored site, and resume interrupted downloads. HTTrack is fully configurable, and has an integrated help system. WinHTTrack is the Windows 2000/XP/Vista/Seven release of HTTrack, and WebHTTrack the Linux/Unix/BSD release. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Kareer.me - The Better EWay To Resume

<https://www.kareer.me/>

We have all been in the job market at one time or another, and we know searching for a job is no fun. Job boards like Monster and Craigslist are becoming saturated with people applying for jobs. Employers become overwhelmed with the number of resumes they have to sort through. They designed Kareer.me to help you stand out from the rest by helping you design an impressive web resume that gives you an opportunity to use video to pitch the employer, show off your work, and personalize a resume for each opportunity. No more excel spreadsheets or sticky notes to manage your job search. Kareer.me keeps everything in one spot to help you be successful in your job search. This has been added to Employment Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

BootCaT - Simple Utilities to Bootstrap Corpora And Terms From the Web

<http://bootcat.sslmit.unibo.it/>

Despite certain obvious drawbacks (e.g. lack of control, sampling, documentation etc.), there is no doubt that the World Wide Web is a mine of language data of unprecedented richness and ease of access. It is also the only viable source of "disposable" corpora built ad hoc for a specific purpose (e.g. a translation or interpreting task, the compilation of a terminological database, domain-specific machine learning tasks). These corpora are essential resources for language professionals who routinely work with specialized languages, often in areas where neologisms and new terms are introduced at a fast pace and where standard reference corpora have to be complemented by easy-to-construct, focused, up-to-date text collections. While it is possible to construct a web-based corpus through manual queries and downloads, this process is extremely time-consuming. The time investment is particularly unjustified if the final result is meant to be a single-use corpus. The command-line scripts included in the BootCaT toolkit implement an iterative procedure to bootstrap specialized corpora and terms from the web, requiring only a list of "seeds" (terms that are expected to be typical of the domain of interest) as input. In implementing the algorithm, we followed the old UNIX adage that each program should do only one thing, but do it well. Thus, we developed a small, independent tool for each separate subtask of the algorithm. As a result, BootCaT is extremely modular: one can easily run a subset of the programs, look at intermediate output files, add new tools to the suite, or change one program without having to worry about the others. More information is available in the readme file included in the toolkit archive. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Awarenesswatch™ Paper Review

The Effects of Virtual Space on Learning: A Literature Review by Olle Sköld

<http://firstmonday.org/htbin/cgiwrap/bin/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/3496>

Abstract:

This paper examines how the effects of virtual space on learning have been elucidated in recent research with the aim of providing both a comprehensive picture of the current state of research and interesting avenues for future projects. Drawing on a multidisciplinary review, it identifies five key themes that together constitute research in virtual space and learning: analogies between the study of physical space and learning; socio-cultural constructivist perspectives; practical and theoretical pedagogy; architecture; and, aesthetics. Current research on how virtual space affects learning is fragmented, albeit rich. The pivotal challenge for the future is to establish a research infrastructure that can harness the richness of already existing studies, while simultaneously serving to drive, focus, and interconnect future research efforts.

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs created and developed by the Virtual Private Library™ combine the best of the latest tools on the Internet. Using bots, blogs and news aggregators the Subject Tracer™ Information blogs generate RSS feeds with the latest resources to create a current information resource flow through niched subject tracers. I am proud to be the creator of the Internet's first Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs:
