V11N8

August 2013

Welcome to the V11N8 August 2013 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter. This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly. Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

Awareness Watch™ Spotters

Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that “change” is the only thing that will remain constant!!

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

This month's featured report covers Student Research Resources. Student Research Resources on the Internet is a comprehensive listing of research resources for students currently available on the Internet. The below list of sources is taken from my Subject Tracer™ Information Blog titled Student Research Resources and is constantly updated with Subject Tracer™ bots at the following URL:

<http://www.StudentResearch.info/>

These resources and sources will help you to discover the many pathways available to you through the Internet to find the latest student research sources and sites. In today's New Economy it has become one of the primary topics discussing methods and utilization of finding information with student research resources being one of the most important resources for knowledge discovery for the student both intermediate and advanced!

Awareness Watch™ Spotters

William J. Clinton Presidential Library

<http://www.clintonlibrary.gov/>

Located in Little Rock, Arkansas, the William J. Clinton Presidential Library is the official repository for the documents and related materials that narrate the life and times of President Clinton. Visitors to the site will find six separate sections, including Research, Biographies, Museum, and Education. In the Biographies area, visitors can find essays on both President Clinton and his wife and former US Secretary of State Hilary Rodham Clinton, along with photo galleries and detailed research guides. The Research area contains a video gallery, a digital library, and finding aids for the papers contained within these collections. The video gallery is a great resource, as it contains several dozen important addresses, including the 1993 State of the Union Address and the Transportation Equity Act bill signing in 1998. The Education area contains lesson plans for those who might visit the Library, along with information for families who may be hoping to enhance their young people's experiences as well. This will be added to Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. From The Scout Report, Copyright Internet Scout 1994-2013. <https://www.scout.wisc.edu/>.

TweetBeep - Free Twitter Alerts by eMail

<http://tweetbeep.com/>

If you love Twitter, you'll love TweetBeep! Keep track of conversations that mention you, your products, your company, anything, with hourly updates! You can even keep track of who's tweeting your website or blog, even if they use a shortened URL (like bit.ly or tinyurl.com). Now, how cool is that?! Great for online reputation management, catching all your @replies and @mentions, finding job/networking opportunities, keeping up on your favorite hobby, and more! Twitalyzer - Serious Analytics for Social Business

<http://twitalyzer.com/>

Considered the most comprehensive Twitter analytics, period. Easy access to valuable social data ... Twitalyzer provides one-click access to the richest body of metrics for Twitter accounts available today. By combining basic Twitter measures with demographic data, widely used metrics like Klout, and our own proprietary scores, Twitalyzer is a "one stop shop" for all of your Twitter analytics needs. Detailed reporting for deep-dive analysis ... Twitalyzer 5.0 provides an industry-first multidimensional view of the 50+ metrics we provide in our "Trends" report. The result is a powerful analytical tool that allows social marketers a unique view of which of their efforts are creating value and driving business results. Real-time data means real-time insights ... Twitalyzer data can be refreshed in real-time, allowing social marketers the ability to accurately gauge their efforts to engage audiences in Twitter with little more than the click of a button. What's more, we now offer hourly automatic processing for high-volume accounts! Data export, everywhere ... At Twitalyzer we recognize that Twitter is just one of your social channels. To that end we have enabled "export everywhere" functionality so that any report you create can easily be integrated into everything else you do. We also provide amazing APIs to facilitate ongoing reporting. This will be added to Social Informatics Subject Tracer™. Scrambls - Take Personal Control Over Your Files and Posts Anywhere On the Web

<https://scrambls.com/>

The web has recently seen a fantastic explosion in the ease and utility of online sharing. From political discourse to cake recipes, everything gets posted online. This evolution of information distribution has made it so much easier to stay in touch with friends, colleagues and ideas. However, it has come with a cost. The majority of posts are aggregated across a number of huge social media services that reserve the right read, distribute and archive the content as they see fit. Files are usually shared in the clear and can easily fall into the wrong hands. Scrambls enables users to seamlessly assert lasting control over their posts and files. Some conversations are really meant to be private. Some posts maybe shouldn't have been posted. Some content is worthy of copyright. Groups and affiliations change. Scrambls strives to be an easy-to-use tool spanning across the Internet to give you control over your participation in online media and online distribution of your important files. Scrambls works for online posts and files interchangeably. Using the same group controls as you use for scrambling social media posts, you can easily scramble a file or folder before emailing it or posting it to an online service or drive. Scrambls works by introducing a 'key' needed to read a post or open a protected file. The original content is encoded before being delivered to the web. The key gets stored at a scrambls servers while the encoded post goes to the service provider. When the post is later displayed, or the file is opened, scrambls applies the key to make it readable again. The author owns these keys and can set the policy for whom and when to make them available. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. Global Compliance Panel - Gateway To Regulatory Compliance

<http://www.globalcompliancepanel.com/>

GlobalCompliancePanel is a training source that delivers diverse, high quality regulatory & compliance trainings. These trainings are simple while being relevant and cost-effective while being convenient. GlobalCompliancePanel imparts knowledge of best practices across a broad range of user-friendly mediums such as webinars, seminars, conferences and tailored, individualized consulting. These help organizations and professionals implement compliance programs that meet regulatory demands and put business processes in place. GlobalCompliancePanel focuses primarily on providing extensive and quality training in these core areas and anything related to them: a) Risk Management; b) Regulatory Compliances; c) Corporate Governance; and d) Quality Management. Through the mediums by which we offer trainings, namely webinars, seminars, conferences and consulting, they bring together the regulators or experts on regulation on the one hand, with the community that needs to learn or be aware of those regulations, on the other. ICIJ Offshore Database

<http://offshoreleaks.icij.org/>

The ICIJ Offshore Database shows relationships and networks among people or companies and offshore entities. Consider this database like a corporate registry where you can check information about a company and the people who played a role in that entity at a certain point in time. Roles include being a director, a shareholder, a beneficial owner, a trustee, among others. The data are a small part of a cache of 2.5 million leaked offshore files that ICIJ analyzed with a team of 112 reporters in 58 countries for more than 15 months. Stories based on the records have appeared in leading media outlets around the world since April 3. The database includes entities incorporated in 10 offshore jurisdictions: British Virgin Islands, Cayman Islands, Cook Islands, Singapore, Hong Kong, Samoa, Seychelles, Mauritius, Labuan and Malaysia. The information comes from two offshore service firms: Singapore-based Portcullis TrustNet and BVI-based Commonwealth Trust Limited (CTL). Other than deleting obvious duplicate records, ICIJ has not altered the data. The relationships and networks you will find in the Offshore Leaks Database are presented as they appear in the original databases ICIJ obtained. We have not added information or enhanced the data in any way. This will be added to Business Intelligence Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Northwestern University Library: Data & Methods Bank

<http://libguides.northwestern.edu/Assessment>

How does one conduct a collection assessment? It's a very timely question and one that is answered most thoroughly via this guide from the Northwestern University Library. Clicking on the What is in this Guide? link will help interested parties navigate the swath of material available here on topics like interdisciplinary analysis, qualitative methods, and how to interpret library data. As the materials are designed for library professionals and others in the information sciences, they may require a certain level of technical background in these areas. The materials are divided into eight sections, including Interdisciplinary Analysis, Comparative Analysis, and Cost Projections & Publishing Market. The guides within each area are spot-on and provide the necessary armature for those working in these fields. Buzz Equity Pro

<http://buzzequity.com/>

While the Buzz Equity pro version social media monitoring plan is just $19.95 a month, they understand that you may not yet be ready to commit to a paid plan. That's why they have provided this free social search content tool to let you see what's being said about you or a company name. Feel free to try as many searches as you want. First, if you've outgrown Google Alerts or need just a simple solution to online reputation monitoring, the Buzz Equity Search tool is for you. While it doesn't have all of the features of their paid plan, it's a great solution for simple reputation monitoring and gaining an understanding about the who's, the where's and the what's of your search term. Second, the Buzz Equity social search tool is a great way for anyone to test out the platform before committing to a paid plan. You can use the search tool as often as you like, but keep in mind that you are restricted to just getting information from the web that is collected at the time of the search. If you want to capture and store this information then you need to "Go Pro". Features in the basic Buzz Equity Social Search include: a) On demand social snapshot monitoring; b) Results via dashboard, RSS, or email alerts; c) Results limited to most recent 600 mentions; and d) Limited sources monitored. Features for the Buzz Equity Pro include: 1) Trending for your monitored term; 2) Regular updates through-out the day; 3) Unlimited mentions; 4) Facebook, Google+ and Forum monitoring included; 5) Insights for charts and analytics; and 6) Automated sentiment analysis and scoring. Selfstarter - Open Source Starting Point for Building Your Own Ad-Hoc Crowdfunding Site

<http://selfstarter.us/>

Selfstarter is an open source starting point for building your own ad-hoc crowdfunding site. It was put together by Lockitron after they were turned down from Kickstarter. Selfstarter is a starting point for you to build your own solution. It is set up to collect reservations using Amazon Payments, but you can choose your own provider too. They have kept Selfstarter really simple, but that also means that you should beef it up with your own authentication, administration and product management code. Most of what you need to get started is in the Readme. Selfstarter is based on Ruby on Rails, and they have tried to break up all of the different parts in a sensible fashion. SpiderOak - 100% Private Online Backup, Sync and Sharing <https://spideroak.com/>

First released in 2007, SpiderOak helped define the industry of online backup. Determined to dispel the myth that 'data online can't be secure,' SpiderOak carved its niche as the top choice for those most concerned with privacy. The engineering goal was simple - devise a plan where users' files, filenames, file types, folders, and/or any other personal information is never exposed to anyone for any reason (even under government subpoena). This describes SpiderOak's 'zero-knowledge' privacy environment. What does 'Zero-Knowledge' privacy mean? In technical terms it means that the server has 'zero-knowledge' of your data. In non-technical terms it means that your data is 100% private and only readable to you. In a world where more and more of our lives are online, it behooves us to think about who has access to our data from critical business documents to personal photo albums. SpiderOak provides the ability to utilize cloud technologies while retaining that precious right we call privacy. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™.

Datavyu - Video Coding and Data Visualization Tool

<http://datavyu.org/>

Datavyu is a Java-based application that runs on Windows, Mac, and Linux operating systems. It requires no specialized hardware. Most labs can create Datavyu coding stations with computers already at hand. Datavyu builds on the OpenSHAPA coding tool. Datavyu accommodates your needs. You decide how you want to code your video, audio, physiology, motion, or eye tracking data. Power users can write scripts in the Ruby programming language and use the power of the R statistical programming environment to extend Datavyu's functionality. Datavyu software and technical support is free, now and always. Datavyu is open-source. Anyone can improve Datavyu and share the new features with the other researchers. Notedip - Private Secure Self Destructing Messages

<http://notedip.com/>

NoteDIP is a free web application that allows you to send secret messages over the internet. These messages will destroy itself after being read. Thus it adds one more layer of protection on our messages. It's fast, easy, and requires no password or user registration at all. Just write your note, and NoteDIP will generate a link. Then you copy and paste that link into an email (or instant message) that you send to the person who you want to read the note. When that person clicks the link for the first time, they will see the note in their browser and the note will automatically self-destruct; which means no one (even that very same person) can read the note again. The link won't work anymore. You can optionally choose to be notified when your note is read by leaving your email and a reference for the note. You can also add passwords to ensure more security to your secret messages. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. AddictiveTips - Tech Blog and Digital Influencer

<http://www.addictivetips.com/>

Founded in 2008, AddictiveTips is a tech blog focused on helping users find free and simple solutions to their everyday problems. We began by reviewing the best freeware apps and services from around the web and routinely covering tips and guides on Windows, Mac, and other operating systems so that users would not have to buy applications and services for the simplest of problems and also, so it would be easier for them to find what they were looking for. As the number of platforms grew, the web landscape changed to people being snowed over by apps that weren't all that useful and we undertook the task to sort the good stuff from the bad. AddictiveTips effectively expanded its scope to include popular mobile platforms like Android, Windows Phone and iOS. AddictiveTips aims to give both experienced and budding developers a voice, and encourage them to create better and useful apps. Today, AddictiveTips is one of the fastest growing tech blogs and digital influencers in the blogosphere. Our team is among the first to cover in-depth reviews of new apps, features, updates, changes and tips related

You Followed My Bot! Transforming Robots into Influential Users in Twitter by

Johnnatan Messias, Lucas Schmidt, Ricardo Oliveira, Fabrício Benevenuto

<http://firstmonday.org/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/4217>

Abstract:

Systems that classify influential users in social networks have been used frequently and are referenced in scientific papers and in the media as an ideal standard of evaluation of influence in the Twitter social network. We consider such systems of evaluation to be complex and subjective, and we therefore suspect that they are vulnerable and easy to manipulate. Based on this, we performed experiments and analysis of two systems for ranking influence: Klout and Twitalyzer. We created simple robots capable of interacting by means of Twitter accounts, and we measured how influential they were. Our results show that it is possible to become influential through simple strategies. This suggests that the systems do not have ideal means to measure and classify influence.
