V11N9   September 2013

Welcome to the V11N9 September 2013 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter.
This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly.
Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report
Awareness Watch™ Spotters
Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review
Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that "change" is the only thing that will remain constant!!

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

This month's featured report covers eReference Resources. eReference Resources on the Internet is a comprehensive listing of reference resources currently available on the Internet. The below list of sources is taken from my Subject Tracer™ Information Blog titled eReference Resources and is constantly updated with Subject Tracer™ bots at the following URL:

http://www.eReferenceResources.com/

These resources and sources will help you to discover the many pathways available to you through the Internet to find the latest reference resources, sources and sites. In today's New Digital World it has become one of the primary topics discussing methods and utilization of finding reference resources and information. eResources is one of the most important and popular resources for reference discovery available on the global Internet.

NoteShred - Send Encrypted, Password Protected Notes That Automatically Shred After Reading
https://www.noteshred.com/
Stop sending sensitive information in plain text. Encrypted email is a pain. Send an online, encrypted, password protected note instead and be notified after it's been read and shred. The idea behind NoteShred is simple. You create a note, assign it a password and then select how and when you would like the note to "shred" itself. The note has a unique URL that you can send to a recipient along with a password for them to open the note. You decide when the note will destroy or "shred" itself. They email you once your note is shredded or deleted so you can rest easy knowing that sensitive information is no longer just laying around in someone's inbox. Your notes are secured using a strong AES 256bit encryption algorithm with a variable encryption key based on your own password. This means that only the people with the password can decrypt the note. They are not able to decrypt your note or your attachments in anyway. NoteShred doesn't require any registration or user accounts. It's all free with no commitment. You can send notes to anybody, all they need is the password. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. This will be added to Entrepreneurial Resources Subject Tracer™.

This will be added to Entrepreneurial Resources Subject Tracer™.

Crypton - Framework for Building Cryptographically Secure Cloud Applications
https://crypton.io/Crypton is a framework for building cryptographically secure cloud applications. U.S. Code Now Available for Bulk Download http://uscodebeta.house.gov/download/download.shtml
http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/bulkdata/News release: "Earlier today, House Speaker John Boehner (R-OH) and Majority Leader Eric Cantor (R-VA) announced that the US Code is now available for bulk download in XML. This seemingly technical announcement must be understood as a bigger win for transparency than it would initially appear. What the House leadership is doing (in a bipartisan fashion, no less) is empowering the American people to better understand the law. Congress is publishing the law online, in real time, and in formats that web developers can refashion into tools that empower everyone to understand the rules that govern our country. This is a milestone in a multi-year effort signaled by a 2011 policy shift announced by the Speaker and Majority Leader that called for "all House stakeholders to work together on publicly releasing the House's legislative data in machine-readable formats." Reps. Steny Hoyer (D-MD) and Mike Honda (D-CA) led earlier efforts (and lent their support to these efforts) to release legislative data online, and Rep. Darrell Issa (R-CA) has been a consistent advocate as well. (Also see this statement on today's release by Committee on House Administration Chair Candice Miller (R-MI), whose committee has been an ally in these transparency efforts.)" BotPaper - The Wallpaper Search Engine http://botpaper.com/BotPaper.com is an online wallpaper search engine; here you can find any wallpaper you want, any category (with the exception of adult content). When you search wallpapers, you can filter the results by keywords, color, resolution and/or website. This is an automated website. They use a robot to capture wallpapers, but they do not host any of the wallpapers listed here, they only store information related to them and a thumbnail (not the wallpapers themselves). Because of this, in order to download the wallpapers, you have to visit the original website that hosts the wallpaper. To accomplish this goal, we have developed a robot that crawls the web looking for new wallpapers and indexing them. It works 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and several times a day it adds new wallpapers to our database. TextSecure encrypts your text messages over the air and on your phone. It's almost identical to the normal text messaging application, and is just as easy to use. TextSecure Provides: a) A secure and private replacement for the default text messaging app; b) All messages are encrypted locally, so if your phone is lost or stolen, your messages will be safe; c) Messages to other TextSecure users are encrypted over the air, protecting your communication in transit; and d) TextSecure is Free and Open Source, enabling anyone to verify its security by auditing the code. TextSecure is the only Android private SMS/MMS messenger replacement that uses open source peer-reviewed cryptographic protocols to keep your messages safe. Rather than simply pretending to hide your texts by putting them in another place, TextSecure uses cryptography to ensure that they remain truly secure. Orbot - Proxy with Tor https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=org.torproject.android&hl=en Orbot is a free proxy app that empowers other apps to use the internet more securely. Orbot uses Tor to encrypt your Internet traffic and then hides it by bouncing through a series of computers around the world. Tor is free software and an open network that helps you defend against a form of network surveillance that threatens personal freedom and privacy, confidential business activities and relationships, and state security known as traffic analysis. Orbot is the only app that creates a truly private internet connection. As the New York Times writes, "when a communication arrives from Tor, you can never know where or whom it's from." Tor won the 2012 Electronic Frontier Foundation (EFF) Pioneer Award. ACCEPT NO SUBSTITUTES: Orbot is the safest way to use the Internet on Android. Period. Orbot bounces your encrypted traffic several times through computers around the world, instead of connecting you directly like VPNs and proxies. This process takes a little longer, but the strongest privacy and identity protection available is worth the wait. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™.

Awarenesswatch™ Paper Review

The Politics of Privacy and the Privacy of Politics: Parties, Elections and Voter Surveillance in Western Democracies by Colin Bennett http://firstmonday.org/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/4789

Abstract:
This paper surveys the various voter surveillance practices currently observed in the United States, assesses the extent to which they have been adopted in other democratic countries, and discusses the broad implications for privacy and democracy. Five interrelated techniques are analyzed: the development of voter management databases; the use of personal data from commercial data brokerage firms; micro-targeting; the decentralization of data to local campaigns; and "targeted sharing" through social media. Structural and cultural differences between the United States and other democratic countries prevent the extensive and direct export of many of these practices. Yet issues about inappropriate communication from parties, about the sharing of data across systems, about intrusive uses of the Internet and social media, and about data breaches have surfaced in some countries. Furthermore, trends in Western party systems towards a greater de-alignment of the electorate will surely place further pressures on parties to target voters outside their traditional bases, and to find new, cheaper, and potentially more intrusive, ways to influence their political behavior. Voter surveillance requires further comparative analysis from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. The issues are not confined to the privacy of the individual voter, but relate to broader trends in democratic politics.
