SlideRocket - The New Way To Present

<http://www.sliderocket.com/>

SlideRocket is a revolutionary new approach to business communications designed from the start to help you make great presentations that engage your audience and deliver tangible results. SlideRocket protects your content investment and opens up a world of previously unavailable possibilities by importing your existing PowerPoint or Google presentations. Import as images for quick and easy sharing or import as editable files for full compatibility with SlideRocket. You decide how to get started and we'll help you reinvent your presentations for the way you work today. Wherever you are, SlideRocket's right there with you. Online, offline or mobile you can login, access your presentations and make them available to your customers and prospects 24x7. SlideRocket delivers the same beautiful experience across operating systems and devices so your message is always well received. With a full set of professional design tools SlideRocket helps you create breathtaking presentations that will wow your audience. Combine themes and layouts, shapes, charts, tables, pictures, audio, HD video, and Flash to tell your story without compromise. SlideRocket goes way beyond its desktop counterparts and offers you the power of the Internet. Easily integrate content from free public web resources like Flickr or YouTube and utilize plug-ins from Yahoo! and Twitter to extend functionality and quickly add pre-formatted content to your slides. Collaborate with your co-workers using SlideRocket's slide library. Easily share presentations, slides and assets across the organization to facilitate reuse and consistency while letting SlideRocket do the heavy lifting with automatic version management and content inheritance for always up to date slides. SlideRocket makes sharing easy. No more supersized email attachments, no more platform or version compatibility issues. Just publish a presentation URL and share it, embed your presentation in a web page or blog, or send an invite, all with a few simple clicks. With SlideRocket it's easy. Dynamic presentations take on a whole new meaning with live embedded data in your slides. Pull data in real time from sources like Google Spreadsheets, Twitter live feeds and Yahoo! Finance stock quotes and let your slides update themselves. Your team, customers and partners always see the latest information, straight from the source. Presentations hold some of your most precious data, yet presentation files are often left unsecured, stored on laptops or thumb drives and shared indiscriminately. The reality is that hard drives crash, viruses attack, computers are stolen, and important documents are lost, accidentally deleted or worse, shared with competitors. SlideRocket stores and protects your presentations online and ensures you have complete control over how they're accessed and distributed. If you value your intellectual property, SlideRocket is the easiest way to effectively secure your presentations and related assets. An industry first, SlideRocket analytics lets you measure your presentation effectiveness by showing you who viewed and what they did as a result. Get high level viewing trends and individual viewing details to understand how well your presentation is performing. You used to send out your presentations and wonder what happened. With SlideRocket, you know. You never know when you might need to deliver an impromptu presentation. On a plane, on a train, "in a box, with a fox". Wherever you are SlideRocket's HTML5 viewer lets you seamlessly share presentations on any HTML5 compliant device to deliver moving presentations wherever you move. Peerio - Secure Messaging and File Sharing Made Easy

<https://www.peerio.com/>

With Peerio, you control your data ... Peerio integrates cloud storage with a messaging platform so you can safely keep your important files online and ready to send from anywhere. With end-to-end encryption, messages and files are encrypted before leaving your computer and can only be read by you and your recipients. Even they can't read them. Big files, no problem ... Peerio makes even large file transfers swift and secure. Just drag and drop and your files will be encrypted and stored safely online. You can access and share your files anytime, anywhere. Real-time delivery notifications ... Peerio confirms your messages and files have been delivered, and lets you know when your recipient has read your message or downloaded your file. Never again ask, "Did you get that file I sent you?" Remote file destruction ... There may be files you want to share, but not forever. With Peerio's remote file destruction, you can delete your file from the entire network and all users at any time. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™. This will be added to Entrepreneurial Resources Subject Tracer™. This will be added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™.

miniLock - File Encryption Software That Does More With Less

<https://minilock.io/>

miniLock makes encrypting files and sharing them with friends easy. It's a modern standard for file encryption. Features include: a) Easy to use - miniLock uses your email and secret passphrase to generate a miniLock ID. miniLock IDs are small and easy to share online — anyone can use your ID to encrypt files to you, and you can encrypt files to friends using their miniLock IDs; b) Modern - Enter your miniLock passphrase on any computer, and you'll get access to your miniLock ID. No key storage or management — just a single passphrase to access your miniLock identity anywhere. miniLock uses modern cryptographic primitives to accomplish this securely; and c) Proven cryptography - miniLock is audited, peer-reviewed software. It's developed by experts, using proven cryptographic standards and under the scrutiny of the open source cryptography community. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™.

DuoLingo - Learn a Language for Free Forever

<https://www.duolingo.com/>

Learning with Duolingo is fun and addictive. Earn points for correct answers, race against the clock, and level up. Their bite-sized lessons are effective, and they have a study to prove it. Each lesson includes a variety of speaking, listening, translation, and multiple choice challenges. Instantly see which answers you get correct. When you miss a challenge, we'll quickly show you how to improve. Duolingo motivates you to stay on track by recording how many days in a row you spend learning a language. Hearts keep your lessons alive! You lose them when you answer incorrectly. When you're out of hearts, start over and try again. Make your breaks and commutes more productive with our iPhone and Android apps. Download them and see why Apple and Google gave us their highest accolades. This will be added to Tutorial Resources Subject Tracer™.

Visible Learning - What Works Best For Learning

<http://visible-learning.org/>

Visible Learning means an enhanced role for teachers as they become evaluators of their own teaching. According to John Hattie Visible Learning and Teaching occurs when teachers see learning through the eyes of students and help them become their own teachers. GLORIA Project

<http://gloria-project.eu/en/>

GLORIA stands for “GLObal Robotic-telescopes Intelligent Array”. GLORIA will be the first free and open- access network of robotic telescopes in the world. It will be a Web 2.0 environment where users can do research in astronomy by observing with robotic telescopes, and/or by analysing data that other users have acquired with GLORIA, or from other free access databases, like the European Virtual Observatory (<http://www.euro-vo.org>). observations on the other telescopes. GLORIA has succeeded in building up the first large scale network of free access robotic telescopes. It will allow any user to take images and actively participate to the their scientific exploitation. The project, which was initiated in October 2011, gives now access to thirteen telescopes: five in Spain, three in Chile, one in Argentina, two in the Czech Republic, one in South Africa and one in Russia. But more will be added soon. Enter or register on the users’ portal and start using ‘interactively’ four night and one solar telescopes or submit your request for scheduled observations on the other telescopes. The first phase of the project is ended (all GLORIA partners acknowledge the financial support of EC-FP7), but actually this is just the beginning of GLORIA. This will be added to Astronomy Resources Subject Tracer™.

Govcode - Government Open Source Projects

Govcode is a website to feature Open source projects by the government. 2,155 contributors, 2,047 projects and 37,575 issues. This will be added to Script Resources Subject Tracer™. This will be added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™.

LightHouse - Be The Manager You Always Wanted

<https://getlighthouse.com/>

Everyone wants to be a good manager, but it's not easy when you're constantly in meetings, context switching, making important decisions, and putting out fires. Little training comes along with the promotion to managing others and apps for HR, project management, and To Do lists aren't built for the unique needs of managing your team. With Lighthouse, there is finally an app to help you motivate and retain your team, by making it easy for you to focus on each of your people and remember all the little things that make them love working for their manager. Features include: a) Have Great 1 on 1s - Lighthouse helps you be prepared for your next 1 on 1 and remind you of what's important to discuss with each team member. They are a central place for all your 1 on 1 notes. Get them out of Evernote, email drafts, and Google Docs. Lighthouse has all the information you need in one place, structured and organized; b) Help Your People Grow - If you're not helping your team become who they want to be, they'll go somewhere that will. Don't shortchange their goals by only talking about them in an annual review. Aligning people's work with their long term goals makes happy, productive teams. Lighthouse helps you break down big goals, so even with lots of other responsibilities, you help them make regular progress; c) Remember key personal info - Ever forget the name of an employee's spouse at an office party? Do you remember who has children? Want to give someone an affordable and thoughtful gift based on their passions outside work? Lighthouse helps you remember everything about your team member and make it easy to access it any time; and d) Follow best practices - Lighthouse was developed based on the needs of even the most experienced managers and they are here to help share best practices if you're still learning the ropes. They use it as managers themselves and learned from those with decades of management experience. This will be added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. Private Eye - See Who Is Tracking You Online

<https://webmaker.org/en-US/private-eye>

Create a “Wizard of Oz” moment by pulling back the curtain to see who’s watching you on the Web. Turn on Mozilla’s Lightbeam tool, visit a handful of websites to see who’s tracking you, and then learn how to fight back. You’ll never look at the Web the same way again! The Invisible Internet Project (I2P)

<https://geti2p.net/en/>

The I2P network provides strong privacy protections for communication over the Internet. Many activities that would risk your privacy on the public Internet can be conducted anonymously inside I2P. I2P is an anonymous overlay network - a network within a network. It is intended to protect communication from dragnet surveillance and monitoring by third parties such as ISPs. I2P is used by many people who care about their privacy: activists, oppressed people, journalists and whistleblowers, as well as the average person. No network can be "perfectly anonymous". The continued goal of I2P is to make attacks more and more difficult to mount. Its anonymity will get stronger as the size of the network increases and with ongoing academic review. I2P is available on desktops, embedded systems (like the Raspberry Pi) and Android phones. Help spread the word! Features include: 1) Email: Integrated web mail interface, plugin for serverless email; 2) Web browsing: Anonymous websites, gateways to and from the public Internet; 3) Blogging and forums: Blogging and Syndie plugins; 4) Website hosting: Integrated anonymous web server; 5) Real-time chat: Instant messaging and IRC clients; 6) File sharing: ED2K and Gnutella clients, integrated BitTorrent client; and 7) Decentralized file storage: Tahoe-LAFS distributed filesystem plugin. JournalTOCs

<http://www.journaltocs.hw.ac.uk/>

Current Awareness Services have been published by libraries for a long time. They usually include new books, table of contents alerts, blogs, citation alerts, and other information. JournalTOCs builds on the idea by offering tables of contents (TOCs) for the newest issues of thousands of academic journals via this free website. Readers may type in the name of any journal in the search function on the homepage to access that journal's latest table of contents. They may also browse by publishers and subjects. For librarians, students, and scholars who want to keep up to date on the breaking research in their field, this is a valuable resource. Federal R&D Facilities for Entrepreneurs and Innovators

<http://www.data.gov/research/>

As part of the Administration's Lab-to-Market initiative, agencies are publishing machine-readable data on over 700 Federal R&D facilities that may be utilized by entrepreneurs and innovators to research, prototype, and test new technologies. These facilities, operated by NASA, the Department of Energy (DOE), and the National Institute of Health (NIH), include cutting-edge research tools and together represent billions of dollars of taxpayer investment. Each facility has its own set of use policies, so a contact person is included in the data wherever possible. For example, some entrepreneurs may be able to access NASA's National Center for Advanced Manufacturing to produce the high-strength, defect-free joints required for cutting-edge aeronautics, or DOE's Manufacturing Demonstration Facility at Oak Ridge National Laboratory for collaborative projects in additive manufacturing, composites and carbon fiber, and other leading clean energy technologies. Periscope - Explore the world through someone else's eyes

<https://www.periscope.tv/>

Just over a year ago, they became fascinated by the idea of discovering the world through someone else's eyes. What if you could see through the eyes of a protester in Ukraine? Or watch the sunrise from a hot air balloon in Cappadocia? It may sound crazy, but they wanted to build the closest thing to teleportation. While there are many ways to discover events and places, they realized there is no better way to experience a place right now than through live video. A picture may be worth a thousand words, but live video can take you someplace and show you around. Periscope lets you broadcast live video to the world. Going live will instantly notify your followers who can join, comment and send you hearts in real time. The more hearts you get, the higher they flutter on the screen. This is offered by Twitter. MindNode - Mind Mapping Easy

<http://www.MindNode.com/>

MindNode makes mind mapping easy. Mind maps are a visual representation of your ideas, starting with a central thought and growing from there. This allows you to brainstorm & organize your thoughts in an intuitive way, so you can focus on the idea behind it. Being featured by Apple as an “App Store Best”, MindNode has helped students, artists and project managers to be more creative with less effort. Features include: a) Just Start With Your Ideas - Easily jot down your thoughts and add as many mind maps as you like to MindNodes infinite canvas. You can even cross connect nodes from different main nodes; b) Think Content, Not Layout - Enrich your thoughts with images (currently Mac only) and highlight them with style. Your mind map even automatically arranges itself, so nothing gets in your way; and c) Everywhere, Every Way - With iCloud (or Dropbox) all your mind maps are on all your devices. Or just export your mind maps to an open format, text file, and even as an image. MindNode is so simple you can use it without reading a manual. However, they have made guides and tutorial videos to introduce MindNode and cover topics like iCloud and MyMindNode. Beansprock - Your Personal Tech Job Hunter

<https://www.beansprock.com/>

Beansprock wants to change the way people find and attain jobs. For the busy professional, spending hours every day browsing job postings simply isn't possible. Even if it was, don't get us started on how deficient these postings are. Beansprock does all the work for you—evaluating thousands of tech jobs every day and sending only the best one to you. Beansprock's knowledge base allows our matching to go beyond keyword search. For example, if you are skilled in Angular.js, then we can infer that you know JavaScript and front-end development. Also important for finding your best job, they can identify new skills that you may be interested in learning and can pick up easily. While building Beansprock, they asked hundreds of developers—what do you want to know most about a job? Perhaps unsurprisingly, many of the responses were for things not even found on a typical job posting. Beansprock augments every posting with a richer understanding of that job. Our matches consider the salary expectations, the commute time, as well as your company preferences, such as the markets it plays in, its size, and even its culture. As one user (who isn't our mom) stated—"this is everything I want, why hasn't anyone done this before?" We asked ourselves the same thing. Astrobiology

<http://online.liebertpub.com/toc/ast/15/1>

Put simply, Astrobiology is a diverse and multidisciplinary field that seeks to understand the origins of life. Sometimes it manifests as a search for life on other planets, other times it might be a deep ocean dive. Astrobiology, the journal, is the "leading peer-reviewed international journal for astronomers, biologists, chemists, geologists, microbiologists, paleontologists, and planetary scientists." Best of all, readers can download dozens of peer-reviewed articles, ranging from tributes to pioneers in the field to intricate studies of ocean vent microbes, for free. Recent articles have focused on the debate over how to define life and the implications for the detection of potential bacterial life on one of Jupiter's moons. Each issue features a tribute, a News & Views article, and an education article. This will be added to Astronomy Resources Subject Tracer™. Journalist's Resource - Research On Todays News Topic

<http://journalistsresource.org/>

Based at Harvard's Shorenstein Center on Media, Politics and Public Policy, the Journalist's Resource project examines news topics through a research lens. They surface scholarly materials that may be relevant to media practitioners, bloggers, educators, students and general readers. Their philosophy is that peer-reviewed research studies can, at the very least, help anchor journalists as they navigate difficult terrain and competing claims. In 2013 the American Library Association named them one of the best free reference Web sites. Their weekly email and Twitter feed serve to highlight the latest studies from academia that can inform public discourse. Given the deluge of research output every day, they aim to be a useful curator. Their searchable database contains top academic and governmental research that they have selected and synthesized. They strive to translate complex statistics into clear data points and reformulate the terminology of academic specialists into more accessible language, without sacrificing rigor or nuance. While they can't provide access to the full text of every study, they try to provide at least a point of entry and highlight key points — and they encourage media members to

Charity Engine - Changing the World One Bit At a Time

<http://www.charityengine.com/>

Charity Engine was created to enable millions of home PCs to raise millions of dollars for the best possible causes, all thanks to spare computing power that nobody is using anyway. Together, our PCs really can change the world – one bit at a time. Charity Engine is based on volunteer computing. The principle is to take enormous, expensive computing jobs and chop them into 1000s of small pieces, each simple enough for a home PC to work on as a background task. Once each PC has finished its part of the puzzle, it sends back the correct answer and earns some money for charity – and for the prize fund. (It also earns more chances to win.) Where does the money come from? Science and industry. The grid is rented like a giant supercomputer, then all the profits shared 33-33-33 between ourselves, the charities and the lucky prize winners. Charity Engine typically adds less than 10 cents per day to a PC's energy costs and can generate up to $10 for charity – and the prize draws – for each $1 of electricity consumed. It is the most efficient way to donate to charity ever invented. This will be added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. OER (Open Educational Resources) Commons

<https://www.oercommons.org/>

ISKME created OER Commons, publicly launched in February 2007, to support and build a knowledge base around the use and reuse of open educational resources (OER). As a network for teaching and learning materials, the site offers engagement with resources for curriculum alignment, quality evaluation, social bookmarking, tagging, rating, and reviewing. OER Commons has forged alliances with over 500 major content partners in order to provide a single point of access to the highest quality content from around the world. Users can search across over 42,000 vetted and fully-indexed OER, ensuring a high level of resource relevancy and discovery. Since these resources are 'open,' they are available for educational use, and many hold Creative Commons licenses that allow them to be repurposed, modified and adapted for a diverse array of local contexts. The worldwide OER movement is rooted in the idea that equitable access to high-quality education is a global imperative. Open Educational Resources (OER) offer opportunities for systemic change in teaching and learning through accessible content, and importantly, through embedding participatory processes and effective technologies for engaging with learning. By leveraging our technical infrastructure and developing teacher training models that facilitate participation with OER, the OER Commons project aims to grow a sustainable culture of sharing among educators at all levels. Through our training and professional development initiatives, we work directly with curriculum specialists, educational agencies, professional organizations, teachers, and students to engage in new ways with learning resources. We develop, facilitate, and evaluate educational programs including professional development workshops, forums, international teacher resource exchanges, online knowledge-sharing collaboratives, and online course materials. Breach Level Index

<http://www.breachlevelindex.com/>

Not all breaches are created equal. Breaches are no longer a binary proposition where an organization either has or hasn't been breached. Instead they are wildly variable—having varying degrees of fallout—from breaches compromising entire global networks of highly sensitive data to others having little to no impact whatsoever. The Breach Level Index not only tracks publicly disclosed breaches, but also allows organizations to do their own risk assessment based on a few simple inputs that will calculate their risk score, overall breach severity level, and summarize actions IT can take to reduce the risk score. OpenLearn - The Home of Free Learning From The Open University

<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/>

OpenLearn gives you free access to learning materials from The Open University. It has content which stretches back to 1999, when The Open University created Open2.net, providing free online learning to support broadcast collaborations with the BBC. They launched the LearningSpace back in October 2006 thanks to a grant from The William and Flora Hewlett Foundation. Their shared vision was free online education, open to anyone, anywhere in the world. OpenLearn is the result and they have since reached over 23 million people. In the first two years, the LearningSpace grew to include over 8000 study hours of learning materials from Open University courses. The website continues to grow with new course materials being published regularly in their OpenLearn 'Try' section. LearningSpace merged with Open2.net in 2010 to create the new OpenLearn - providing a single home for all the OU's free learning activity. Combined, OpenLearn gives access to topical and interactive content, from expert blogs, to videos and games. This 'open media' often links to their BBC television and radio programmes. As if that isn't enough, you can also find Open University channels on YouTubeExternal link and iTunesU and you can follow them on Twitter (@OpenUniversityExternal link). CorporateInformation.com - Global Research and Analysis Expertise

<http://www.corporateinformation.com/>

The company research reports contained in CorporateInformation.com are produced on over 35,000 companies from over 65 countries. Wright Investors' has researched and analyzed company information since the inception of the firm in 1960. Wright's proprietary analysis tools, developed over several decades, include a Quality Rating system that is applied (when there is sufficient information available) to each company contained in CorporateInformation. The value-added reports also include extensive explanatory footnotes to help interpret company results. In the mid 1980's, in support of its international investment initiatives, Wright Investors' Service developed Worldscope®, the premier global corporate financial database. The Worldscope® Database is the financial industry's premier source of detailed financial statement data on publicly traded companies worldwide. The Database contains data obtained from primary source documents, such as Annual and Interim Reports. The research reports delivered through CorporateInformation.com are developed from data contained in the Worldscope® Database.. In 1987, Wright established a European research center based in Shannon, Ireland and together with Primark, Inc. opened a second research center in 1995 in Bangalore, India. Utilizing highly trained corporate analysts from around the world; Worldscope quickly grew and now covers more than 39,000 companies. The research and analysis applications that comprise CorporateInformation.com are derived from the investment processes developed by Wright. Today, Worldscope is produced by Thomson Reuters with continuing editorial oversight from Wright, a seasoned investment firm with over two decades of global management experience. Binfer - File Transfer - eMail - Instant Messaging

<http://www.binfer.com/>

Binfer is a file transfer software with which you can send large files without uploading anywhere. Binfer was created in response to the frustration of sending large files via email, instant messaging, FTP or web based uploads. Binfer allows you to share files easily and securely. Files transfer directly from you to the recipient. No time is wasted in uploading and downloading one file at a time. Binfer removes these limitations. With Binfer you can: a) Send large files like HD video, pictures, documents, designs etc to anyone over the internet. 4GB video? 1000 pictures? No problem; b) Receive big files directly to your computer, without setting up hosting servers or FTP sites; c) Transfer at fastest possible speeds with auto resumes, encryption and delivery confirmations; d) Preserve the privacy and confidentiality of your files; e) Increase your productivity with the simplicity of email and security of VPN; and f) Eliminate the cost and complexity of FTP clients and servers. Binfer is more than a file transfer software. It is also a secure communication tool. It is well suited for those looking for private communication or save on communication infrastructure costs. Traditional email and chat applications store the messages on a central server and then forward it to the intended recipients. The copies may be retained on multiple servers. Binfer chat and email are serverless. The messages are not stored anywhere and are transferred encrypted only to the intended recipient. For businesses, there is an additional saving by not having to maintain servers, storage etc. This will be added to Entrepreneurial Resources Subject Tracer™. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Awarenesswatch™ Paper Review

Digital Gender: Perspective, Phenomena, Practice by Viktor Arvidsson, and Anna Foka

<http://firstmonday.org/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/5387>

Abstract:

Past research on gender online has made important land gains but under-theorizes the Internet as a passive, fixed, and somewhat insubstantial space or context. By contrast, this special issue draws on new material thinking to put into questions the very notion of “cyberspace” as a distinct realm. In this vein, the contents of this issue critically examine how the Internet and related digital technologies actively “work” to maintain or transform systems of oppression, as displayed, for example, in the digital doing(s) of gender. They also show how digital technologies and related concepts can be used to challenge current understandings of race, class, and gender and to produce and provoke new forms of knowledge. While the contents of this issue are drawn from different fields and display great diversity, the individual contributions of each author helps to chart out three potent venues for future Internet research: namely digital gender as perspective, phenomena, and practice.
