V15N11

November 2017

Welcome to the V15N11 November 2017 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter. This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly. Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

Awareness Watch™ Spotters

Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that “change” is the only thing that will remain constant!!

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

This month’s featured report covers my Data Mining Resources 2018 and is a comprehensive listing of data mining search engines, directories, subject guides and index resources and sites on the Internet. The below list of sources is taken from my Subject Tracer™ Information Blog titled Data Mining Resources and is constantly updated with Subject Tracer™ bots at the following URLs:

<http://www.DataMiningResources.info/>

These resources and sources will help you to discover the many pathways available through the Internet to find the latest data mining resources and sites. As this site is constantly updated it would be to your benefit to bookmark and return to the above URL frequently.

The Essential Landscape of Enterprise AI Companies

<https://www.topbots.com/essential-landscape-overview-enterprise-artificial-intelligence/>
Enterprise companies comprise a $3.4 trillion market worldwide of which an increasingly larger share is being allocated to artificial intelligence technologies. By our definition, “enterprise” technology companies create tools for workplace roles and functions that a large number of businesses use. For example, Salesforce is the primary enterprise software used by sales professionals in a company. Also known as a type of customer relationship management software, or CRM, it is the system of record for sales professionals to enter in their contacts, progress of leads, and for sales metrics to be tracked. Any company directly selling their products and services would benefit from a CRM. Plenty of enterprise companies use combinations of automated data science, machine learning, and modern deep learning approaches for tasks like data preparation, predictive analytics, and process automation. Many are well-established players with deep domain expertise and product functionality. Others are hot new startups applying artificial intelligence to new problems. ### DBpedia - Crowd-Sourced Community Effort To Extract Structured Information from Wikipedia

<http://wiki.dbpedia.org/>

DBpedia is a crowd-sourced community effort to extract structured information from Wikipedia and make this information available on the Web. DBpedia allows you to ask sophisticated queries against Wikipedia, and to link the different data sets on the Web to Wikipedia data. We hope that this work will make it easier for the huge amount of information in Wikipedia to be used in some new interesting ways. Furthermore, it might inspire new mechanisms for navigating, linking, and improving the encyclopedia itself. The DBpedia project leverages this gigantic source of knowledge by extracting structured information from Wikipedia and by making this information accessible on the Web under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 3.0 License and the GNU

Pedagogy Unbound

<http://david-gooblar.squarespace.com>

David Gooblar, a lecturer in the Rhetoric Department at the University of Iowa, launched Pedagogy Unbound in 2013 in order to provide a space for college instructors to discuss and share ideas about curriculum, instruction, and pedagogy in higher education. Gooblar also authors a column by the same name for the Chronicle of Higher Education's Vitae. On this website, visitors can access a number of teaching ideas and tips submitted by Gooblar and other contributors. These tips are organized into categories such as Academic Honesty, Online and Hybrid Courses, Using Technology, and Making Better Writers. Some of these tips include citations for those interested in reading more. College-level instructors are invited to submit their own tips to this growing collection. This will be added to Education and Academic Resources Subject Tracer™. Copyright © 2017 Internet Scout Research Group - <http://scout.wisc.edu>

Sophia Project

<http://www.sophia-project.org>

The Sophia Project was launched in 1999 by a group of college-level instructors who hoped to "build the world's largest online repository for free educational resources in the fields of philosophy and ethics for the sole purpose of expanding the domain of human wisdom." Almost two decades later, the Sophia Project has expanded to include a publishing branch (SophiaOmni Press, launched in 2009) and continues to offer a number of texts related to philosophy and ethics for free on this website. Here, visitors are invited to browse both primary sources related to the disciplines of philosophy and ethics and helpful encyclopedia-style summaries of key authors and texts. In the Philosophy Archives section, readers can browse texts by categories such as Classical Philosophy, 19th - 20th Century Philosophy, and Eastern Philosophy. For philosophy instructors and

Franchise - Open Source Notebook for SQL

<https://franchise.cloud/>

Franchise is a lightweight but powerful SQL tool with a notebook interface. You can use it online at franchise.cloud. There's no sign up and no install: a) For editing CSVs, JSON, XLSX files, we've integrated js-xlsx, and sql.js so you can query data entirely locally in your browser; and b) For connecting to PostgreSQL, MySQL, or BigQuery, just run a single command in your terminal to open a bridge that allows Franchise to directly connect to your database. Your data never touches a third party server. Chart with a single click and compare queries side by side. With their unique notebook layout engine, you can drag and drop cells on the same line to compare views. No sign up, no install. Chart with a single click. Compare queries side by side. ### Broadband Internet Technical Advisory Group (BITAG)

<http://www.bitag.org/>

BITAG was born out of a series of roundtable discussions hosted by the Silicon Flatirons Center at the University of Colorado School of Law. In those sessions, it became clear that a broad cross-section of the Internet community saw the need for, and value of, a technical advisory group to discuss and opine on technical issues pertaining to the operation of the Internet, as a means of bringing transparency and clarity to network management processes as well as the interaction among networks, applications, devices and content. Each technical issue brought to BITAG's Technical Working Group (TWG) is referred to a committee within the TWG, where the technical analysis will be performed and a report generated. These committees are open to TWG Representatives from all Members, regardless of Member Category. The committees operate according to the BITAG Technical Working Group Governance Manual and, with limited exception, adhere to our 120-day "shot clock." This shot clock allows for expeditious review of technical issue. This will be added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™.

New Economics (econ) Archive at arXiv.org

<https://arxiv.org/help/econ/announcement>

An Economics section of the scientific repository arXiv is opening this month. The Economics arXiv will start with a single subject area of Econometrics, but according to demand we expect to add more subject areas in the future, and the Econometrics subject can also be subdivided further. The reason to start with Econometrics is that a significant number of Econometricians already regularly submit their work to the statistics domain of the arXiv. We hope that creating an explicit Econometrics domain will result in a majority of Econometricians to submit their work to the arXiv, so that most of the new papers in the field are disseminated in that way. They initially want to focus on methodological papers, in agreement with the following description: econ.EM (econometrics): Econometric Theory, Micro-Econometrics, Macro-Econometrics, Empirical Content of Economic Relations discovered via New Methods, Methodological Aspects of the Application of Statistical Inference to Economic Data. ### The Ultimate Guide to Searching CIA's Declassified Archives by Emma Best

<https://www.muckrock.com/news/archives/2017/sep/22/crest-search-guide/>

Looking to dig into the Agency's 70 year history? Here's where to start. While the Agency deserves credit for compiling a basic guide to searching their FOIA reading room, it still omits information or leaves it spread out across the Agency's website. In one egregious example, the CIA guide to searching the records lists only three content types that users can search for, a review of the metadata compiled by Data.World reveals an addition ninety content types. ### Wise Mapping - Free Online Mapping Editor for Individuals and Business

<http://www.wisemapping.com/>

A mind map is a diagram used to represent words, ideas, tasks, or other items linked to and arranged around a central key word or idea. Especially in British English, the terms spidergram and spidergraph are more common,[1] but they can cause confusion with the term spider diagram used in mathematics and logic. Mind maps are used to generate, visualize, structure, and classify ideas, and as an aid to studying and organizing information, solving problems, making decisions, and writing. The elements of a given mind map are arranged intuitively according to the importance of the concepts, and are classified into groupings, branches, or areas, with the goal of representing semantic or other connections between portions of information. Mind maps may also aid recall of existing memories. By presenting ideas in a radial, graphical, non-linear manner, mind maps encourage a brainstorming approach to planning and organizational tasks. Though the branches of a mindmap represent hierarchical tree structures, their radial arrangement disrupts the prioritizing of concepts typically associated with hierarchies presented with more linear visual cues. This orientation towards brainstorming encourages users to enumerate and connect concepts without a tendency to begin within a particular conceptual framework. The mind map can be contrasted with the similar idea of concept mapping. The former is based on radial hierarchies and tree structures denoting relationships with a central governing concept, whereas concept maps are based on connections between concepts in more diverse patterns. However, either can be part of a larger personal knowledge base system. Features include: a) Web Based - You don't have to install anything on your computer because we are using HTML5; b) Collaborative - Share your maps with your friends; c) Free - Use WiseMapping for free without any restrictions; d) Embed In Blogs - You can share your mindmap with anyone, embedding it in any webpage. No plugins needed; e) For Business and Education - You can use WiseMapping internally in your company or school; and f) Import/Export - Import/Export from/to FreeMind. g a global media monitoring, analytics & management solution with top-notch customer support that is easy to use for everyone. ### Vivaldi - Power User Browser

<https://vivaldi.com/>

You spend a lot of time on the web. You deserve a browser that is personal, has the functionality you need and the flexibility you crave. You deserve Vivaldi so we made it for you. Get an in-depth overview of your browsing habits, backed by statistics and visual data. With History more useful than ever before, you can quickly scan through visited websites and get helpful hints for finding old links. Found that perfect quote for your essay or article? Copy that text to the notes panel, adding a link at the same time. Add a screen shot, just in case the page changes. The world is a colorful place because we are all different and unique. We at Vivaldi believe in making software that lets you do things your way. We adapt to you! With Vivaldi you can customize the browser the way you want. Do you prefer the browser tabs placed at the bottom or on the side of the window? Or, a different location for the address bar? Whether it's your keyboard shortcuts, mouse gestures, appearance or a modification to address color blindness, Vivaldi gives you the tools. Do you tend to keep many tabs open in your browser? Organize the view using Tab Stacking. This feature lets you group multiple tabs into one. Just drag a tab over to another for an uncomplicated grouping. With Tab Stack Tiling, you can display multiple tabs side by side or in a grid layout. Through multiple tab stacks that are tiled, you have multiple desktops, which you can switch between with a single click. More power to you! When buying a new car, you are given a choice of colors and customized features. With Vivaldi, you aren't limited to our sense of style. Drive your own style with our many included themes, or easily make your own! Do you like command line control? Then Vivaldi is sure to delight. Quick Commands let you search through open tabs, bookmarks, history, settings and more from a command line interface. One of the things that makes Vivaldi unique is that it is built on modern web technologies. We use JavaScript and React to create the user interface with the help of Node.js and a long list of NPM modules. Vivaldi is the web built with the web. ### Threema - Mobile Messenger That Puts Security and Privacy First

<https://threema.ch/en>

Threema is the mobile messenger that puts security and privacy first. Features include: a) Guaranteed Privacy - Threema is designed to generate as little data on servers as possible: Groups and contact lists are solely managed on users' devices, messages are immediately deleted after delivery. This effectively prevents the collection of meta data; b) Best-In-Class Encryption - Threema end-to-end encrypts all your communication including messages, voice calls, group chats, files and even status messages. Only the intended recipient, and nobody else can read your messages; c) Versatile and Feature-Rich - Threema makes secure communications easy and fun. Send text and voice messages as well as files and locations in single and group chats. Make voice calls, create polls, and use Threema on the desktop with Threema Web; d) Full Anonymity - Each Threema user generates a random Threema ID. No phone number or email address is required in order to use Threema. This enables you to use Threema completely anonymously; e) Trusted Contacts - Verify your contacts by scanning their QR code or by comparing the key fingerprints. This effectively prevents man-in-the-middle attacks, and you can be sure to communicate directly with the intended person; and f) Independent Company - Threema is a 100% independent and self-financed company in the heart of Switzerland with its own servers and in-house software development. Switzerland is a country with some of the most user friendly privacy laws in the world. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™. ### Degreed - The Lifelong Learning Platform

<https://degreed.com/>

Individuals and organizations use Degreed to find, track and recognize ALL learning. We face the biggest challenges humanity has ever encountered. We need extraordinary experts to solve those challenges and make the unthinkable reality. Experts who can heal, discover, challenge, and advance. Degreed exists to discover, empower, and recognize the next generation of the world's expertise. The smartest, brightest, and most bold, the tenacious, willing, the unsung heroes, self-taught, the scrappy, driven, the passionate, daring, the unafraid. Experts. There is no single path to expertise. And our success in solving our unique problems depends not upon uniformity, but on our diversity, because our differences and uniqueness make us powerful. Everyone deserves recognition for their expertise, no matter how they got there. The future depends on our commitment to be our best selves and discover our own personal missions. To become experts—each of us. The challenges of the future won't care how you became an expert, just that you did. And that you made a difference. Own your expertise ... With 1500+ certifiable skills, Degreed Skill Certification lets you show the world what you're made of. This will be added to Tutorial Resources Subject Tracer™. ### Why Blogs Endure: A Study of Recent College Graduates and Motivations for Blog Readership by Alison J. Head, Michele Van Hoeck, and Kirsten Hostetler

<http://firstmonday.org/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/8065>

Abstract:

This paper reports the results from a mixed methods study of recent college graduates who were asked if and why they used blogs as sources for continued learning purposes. Findings are based on 1,651 online survey responses and 63 follow-up telephone interviews with young graduates from 10 U.S. colleges and universities. Despite the media's declarations about the impending demise of the blogosphere, almost two-thirds of the respondents (62 percent) had read blogs to fulfill their learning needs during the past 12 months. Blogs were an affordable source of information to these readers, especially for acquiring additional knowledge and closing skill gaps in their personal lives after college. Results from a logistic regression analysis indicated respondents were more likely to have read blogs during the past 12 months if they needed step-by-step instructions for hobbies, do-it-yourself household repairs, or money management and creating a personal budget. Respondents who used blogs were also more likely to also use complementary sources, such as educational videos on YouTube, to meet their learning needs. The concept of shared utility is introduced as a basis for explaining reasons for use of the blog format, and conclusions are drawn about why blogs, an early Web form, are still useful to millennials as sources of continued learning.

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs created and developed by the Virtual Private Library™ combine the best of the latest tools on the Internet. Using bots, blogs and news aggregators the Subject Tracer™ Information blogs generate RSS feeds with the latest resources to create a current information resource flow through niched subject tracers. I am proud to be the creator of the Internet's first Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs:
