V15N12

December 2017

Welcome to the V15N12 December 2017 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter. This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly. Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

Awareness Watch™ Spotters

Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review

Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that “change” is the only thing that will remain constant!!

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

This month’s featured report covers my ShoppingBots and Online Shopping Resources 2018 and is a comprehensive listing of shopping search engines, directories, subject guides and index resources and sites on the Internet. The below list of sources is taken from my Subject Tracer™ Information Blog titled ShoppingBots and Online Shopping 2018 and is constantly updated with Subject Tracer™ bots at the following URLs:

<http://www.ShoppingBots.info/>

These resources and sources will help you to discover the many pathways available through the Internet to find the latest shopping resources and sites. As this site is constantly updated it would be to your benefit to bookmark and return to the above URL frequently.

Definr - Incredibly Fast Dictionary

<http://www.definr.com/>

Definr.com is a fast, free dictionary based on Princeton's open WordNet 2.0. The website framework is Ruby on Rails. Looking up words in a dictionary is easy, so we do that with MySQL and cache the top 10,000 definitions in memory. Doing word completion (a.k.a. auto-complete, auto-suggest, globbing) is not easy, at least not when you have to search through 200,000 words for every keystroke. So our word completion is done in a C module for Ruby, and the word completion server is separate from the rest of the site. With the DefinrBot algorithm, we can do 190,000 word completions per second without caching, and that translates to about 10,000 completions per second once the Ruby layer is factored in. LICEcap - Simple Animated Screen Captures

<https://www.cockos.com/licecap/>

LICEcap can capture an area of your desktop and save it directly to .GIF (for viewing in web browsers, etc) or .LCF. LICEcap is an intuitive but flexible application (for Windows and now OSX), that is designed to be lightweight and function with high performance. In addition to .GIF, LICEcap supports its own native lossless .LCF file format, which allows for higher compression ratios than .GIF, higher quality (more than 256 colors per frame), and more accurate timestamping. If you record to .LCF, you can play back the .LCF files within REAPER (and/or use it to convert to .gif or another video format). LICEcap is GPL free software, each download package includes the source. Features and options: 1) Record directly to .GIF or .LCF; 2) Move the screen capture frame while recording; 3) Pause and restart recording, with optional inserted text

Rank Dynamics - Make Your Search Dynamic

<http://www.rankdynamics.com/>

Rank Dynamics will transform your search into a more productive experience where fluid result pages respond to user actions in real time. The outcome — more sales. As the quantity of information on the Internet expands exponentially, it has become increasingly difficult, if not impossible, for search engines to provide all the relevant results on page one, while simultaneously eliminating those that are irrelevant. It is furthermore of little use providing millions, thousands or even hundreds of matched documents when few people bother expending the effort to dig past the first page of results. To address these problems, Rank Dynamics has developed Dynamic Ranking, a real-time contextual search technology. By observing user behavior in order to disambiguate intent "on the fly," Rank Dynamics can automatically bring forward to page one relevant results that might otherwise have remain buried. By transforming traditional static lists of links into dynamic search pages where results are immediately re-ordered, users are able to more quickly and easily find pertinent information buried among the irrelevant results, significantly accelerating the search process. The company, founded in 2006, is headquartered in San Francisco, CA. This will be added to eCommerce Resources Subject Tracer™. This will be added to Social Informatics Subject Tracer™. Visual Thesaurus

<https://www.visualthesaurus.com/>

The Visual Thesaurus is an interactive dictionary and thesaurus which creates word maps that blossom with meanings and branch to related words. Its innovative display encourages exploration and learning. You'll understand language in a powerful new way. Say you have a meaning in mind, like "happy." The VT helps you find related words, from "cheerful" to "euphoric." The best part is the VT works like your brain, not a paper-bound book. You'll want to explore just to see what might happen. You'll discover -- and learn -- naturally and intuitively. You'll find the right word, write more descriptively, free associate -- and gain a more precise understanding of the English language. The Visual Thesaurus® is developed and published by Thinkmap, Inc. New York-based Thinkmap, Inc. develops and markets software that uses visualization to facilitate communication, learning, and discovery. They specialize in user interfaces and visualization mechanisms that allow end-users to more effectively browse and understand complex information.

WordWeb Software - Language and Puzzle Technology

<http://www.wordwebsoftware.com/>

WordWeb Software is based in Brighton, UK and run by the main developer, Antony Lewis. International versions are usually supported by native speakers based in a target country, and international sales are handled by the third-party companies DigitalRiver and PayPal. Independent App Stores handle sales for phones and tablets. Crossword Compiler has been the world's leading crossword making software since 1993. There is a wide global user base encompassing teachers, web publishers, professional constructors and enthusiasts. The solving applet is used by many web sites all over the world, from Portuguese crosswords on web portals in Brazil, to The Times and Independent newspaper sites in the UK, to crosswords for teaching English in Korea. Crossword Compiler is used by most of the professional crossword constructors in the USA, and the file format is widely recognised for crossword submissions. Many schools, universities and training institutions recognize the advantages of the program for creating fun educational puzzles. The WordWeb dictionary and thesaurus is widely used internationally, with over 10 million downloads of the free version and a much smaller base of users of the full Pro version. It is one of the main high-quality electronic references for international English, with the free version especially appreciated in developing countries. The mobile and tablet versions are also very popular, with millions of users of the free apps. This will be added to Games Resources Subject Tracer™. Impressive is a program that displays presentation slides. But unlike OpenOffice.org Impress or other similar applications, it does so with style. Smooth alpha-blended slide transitions are provided for the sake of eye candy, but in addition to this, Impressive offers some unique tools that are really useful for presentations. Creating presentations for Impressive is very simple: You just need to export a PDF file from your presentation software. This means that you can create slides in the application of your choice and use Impressive for displaying them. If your application does not support PDF output, you can alternatively use a set of pre-rendered image files – or you use Impressive to make a slideshow with your favorite photo. Impressive is written in Python, a feature-rich interpreted scripting language. Python is available on numerous platforms. Because of

PresentationTube - A Network of Video Presentations

<http://presentationtube.com/>

PresentationTube has been launched by Dr. Alaa Sadik to help faculty, teachers, students, and all business professionals record and share quality video presentations easily. It offers free presentation recording software and online video sharing platform.

PresentationTube Recorder allows presenters to narrate and annotate PowerPoint slides and synchronize a variety of essential visual media, including webcam video, whiteboard, Web content, YouTube video, and computer screen. The screen recorder automates the process and ensures that presenters only need minimal technical knowledge and spend no additional time creating materials. The recorder can also add screen captions to your recordings in seconds and with the unique annotation feature you can even personalize your videos by including a webcam movie of yourself over your desktop. With visual aids, like the drawing board, presenters can draw lines, curves, graphs, and shapes on the screen to emphasize or clarify their ideas, so the demonstration can be clearer. The online platform uses the latest YouTube Data API technology to upload, process, and host video presentations and combine video with scrollable slide thumbnails, allowing the audience to move to the respective video content and control both the progress and length of video presentation. Both the software and the online platform is available for free, with unlimited video storage space and video delivery bandwidth. Teachers, for example, can use PresentationTube to support learners by presenting curriculum materials, illustrate concepts that are less easily explained through traditional media, support new types of learning opportunities, and provide enrichment activities for students in traditional face-to-face lectures or through e-learning environments. PresentationTube has received a considerable regional and international recognition and awards with more than 165,000 active users and around 6,000 quality video presentations. Brave Web Browser

<http://www.brave.com/>

Brave is a web browser built to safeguard end-user privacy against tracking companies and intrusive advertisers while also providing a way for content producers to be paid for their work. According to Brendan Eich, co-founder of Brave Software, the web currently faces a "primal threat" caused by a growing conflict between users and the advertising companies so often necessary for authors to be compensated for the work they put online. In addition to their sheer intrusiveness, ads and trackers also increase the "page weight" of sites, which can lead to increased data charges for mobile users. The Brave homepage presents data showing that these costs add up to about $270 per year for the average mobile user. By default, Brave blocks these ads and trackers. Users may instead opt-in to a monthly contribution that Brave Software will distribute among sites the user has visited. Brave for mobile is available for iOS and Android devices. Beta releases of Brave for desktops are available for Windows, macOS, and several Linux distributions. This will be added to Privacy Resources Subject Tracer™. Awarenesswatch™ Paper Review

A Comparison of Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn: Examining Motivations and Network Externalities for the Use of Social Networking Sites by Mijung Kim and Jiyoung Cha

<http://firstmonday.org/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/8066>

Abstract:

Although the winner-takes-all approach is often theorized in the use of an information communication technology, more than one popular social networking site exists in the market. Integrating uses and gratification (U&G) theory with network externalities, this study examines why social networking sites can coexist in the market and whether predictors of using social networking sites differ across popular social networking sites. Three separate surveys were conducted for Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn. The results show that motivations for using each SNS differ; these motives exert a greater influence on SNS use than network externalities for all three SNSs.
