V18N9   September 2020

Welcome to the V18N9 September 2020 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter.
This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly.
Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report
Awareness Watch™ Spotters Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that "change" is the only thing that will remain constant especially in today's COVID-19 New Economy world!!

This month's featured report covers Statistics Resources and Big Data 2020 and is a comprehensive listing of world wide wide web and Internet statistics and big data research resources, tools and alerts including search engines, directories, subject guides and index resources and sites on the Internet available for the 2020 year. The below list is taken partially from my Subject Tracer™ white paper titled Statistics Resources and Big Data 2020 and is constantly updated with Subject Tracer™ bots at the following URL:

http://www.StatisticsResources.info/

These resources and sources will help you to discover the many new pathways available through the Internet to find the latest new and existing world wide web and Internet statistic and big data research resources, sources, tools and sites. As this site is constantly updated it would be to your benefit to bookmark and return to the above URL frequently.
The true way to search the Internet and social media for new world wide web and Internet statistics and big data research resources, sources and tools is to use the below listed tools and resources and include the deep web. These resources will be your pathfinder to all the new economy, statistics resources and big data tools and alerts!!

Sage ResearchMethods – What Every Researcher Needs https://methods.sagepub.com/SAGE Research Methods supports research at all levels by providing material to guide users through every step of the research process. Nearly everyone at a university is involved in research, from students learning how to conduct research to faculty conducting research for publication to librarians delivering research skills training and doing research on the efficacy of library services. SAGE Research Methods has the answer for each of these user groups, from a quick dictionary definition, a case study example from a researcher in the field, a downloadable teaching dataset, a full-text title from the Quantitative Applications in the Social Sciences series, or a video tutorial showing research in action. SAGE Research Methods is the ultimate methods library with more than 1000 books, reference works, journal articles, and instructional videos by world-leading academics from across the social sciences, including the largest collection of qualitative methods books available online from any scholarly publisher. The site is designed to guide users to the content they need to learn a little or a lot about their method. The Methods Map can help those less familiar with research methods to find the best technique to use in their research. Built upon SAGE's legacy of methods publishing, SAGE Research Methods is the essential online tool for researchers. This will be added to Business Intelligence Resources Subject Tracer™. AZSecure-data.org – Intelligence and Security Informatics Data Sets https://www.azsecure-data.org/Data Science Testbed for Security Researchers. This portal is available to the ISI community to support research. This service started by offering browsing access to downloadable forums from the Artificial Intelligence Lab's Dark Web and Geo Web collections, which presently includes nearly 40 million postings. Each forum collection contains millions of postings from hundreds of thousands of authors, and may be in English, Arabic, French, German, Indonesian, Pashto, Russian or Urdu, depending on the forum. The repository also includes a large collection of Internet phishing websites from the University of Virginia, with collections of Escrow, Financial, and Pharmacy sites.
Recent additions to the repository include hacker forums in English and Russian, Chinese underground market forums, and chat logs that can be used in the study of underground behavior and how hackers learn from each other, the formation of social networks, relationships with the underground economy, and more. The Patriot, militia, hate and linked websites collection based off the Southern Poverty Law Center's 2009 list can be used to study rhetoric and communication, group dynamics, extreme social movements, and other topics, in information and the social sciences. All data sets can be downloaded freely for non-commercial education and research use. his NSF-funded Data Infrastructure Building Blocks project is intended to address a large gap in the availability of open source research data for researchers in ISI. The University of Arizona Artificial Intelligence Lab and its partners, the University of Virginia, the University of Texas at Dallas, Drexel University, and the University of Utah, were awarded $1,499,531 for a three-year Pilot Demonstration Project to make available a significant archive of data and analysis tools to serve the ISI community. The primary focus of the AZSecure-data project is on data collection and management, access, and data analysis. The goal is to identify and collect data that will be of the highest interest to the research community and providing the data to the community in the easiest, most useful, and most direct way possible. This will be added to Deep Web Research and Discovery Resources 2020. This

Censorship Explorer
https://tools.digitalmethods.net/beta/proxies/Check whether a URL is censored in a particular country by using proxies located around the world. Input URLs or text into the top box and choose whether you want to request those URLs via your own browser or through one or more proxies. Each URL inputted will be requested through each selected proxy. Additionally each URL will be requested from our own server in the Netherlands so that a comparison can be made. The proxy list is regularly updated by scraping free online proxy lists such as freeproxylists.com and xroxy.com. Clicking the proxy will open a new tab for IP lookup service whatismyipaddress.com showing additional details about the proxy. If you cannot find a useful proxy you can specify your own in the bottom box (in the form IP:port, e.g.
192.168.0.22:80). Although all listed proxies are publicly available on the web they might not all be made accessible intentionally. URL blocking is mostly intentional and web traffic from a proxy to a blocked site may have consequences for the owner of the proxy. Consider the political situation in the country of the proxy you are using w.r.t. the types of URLs you want to request through the proxy. This will be added to Social Informatics Subject Tracer™. This will be added to Business Intelligence Resources

Y Combinator
https://www.ycombinator.com/Y Combinator provides seed funding for startups. Seed funding is the earliest stage of venture funding. It pays your expenses while you're getting started. Some companies may need no more than seed funding. Others will go through several rounds. There is no right answer; how much funding you need depends on the kind of company you start. At Y Combinator, their goal is to get you through the first phase. This usually means: get you to the point where you've built something impressive enough to raise money on a larger scale. Then they can introduce you to later stage investors—or occasionally even acquirers. This will be added to Business Intelligence Resources Subject Tracer™. Mapping YouTube: A Quantitative Exploration of a Platformed Media System by Bernhard Rieder, Oscar Coromina and Ariadna Matamoros-Fernandez https://firstmonday.org/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/10667/9575

Abstract:
Over the past 15 years, YouTube has emerged as a large and dominant social media service, giving rise to a 'platformed media system' within its technical and regulatory infrastructures. This paper relies on a large-scale sample of channels (n =36M+) to explore this media system along three main lines. First, we investigate stratification and hierarchization in broadly quantitative terms, connecting to well-known tropes on structural hierarchies emerging in networked systems, where a small number of elite actors often dominate visibility. Second, we inquire into YouTube's channel categories, their relationships, and their proportions as a means to better understand the topics on offer and their relative importance. Third, we analyze channels according to country affiliation to gain insights into the dynamics and fault lines that align with country and language. Throughout the paper, we emphasize the inductive character of this research by highlighting the many follow-up questions that emerge from our findings.
