V7N3

March 2009

Welcome to the V7N3 March 2009 issue of the Awareness Watch™ Newsletter. This newsletter is available as a complimentary subscription and will be issued monthly. Each newsletter will feature the following:

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report
Awareness Watch™ Spotters
Awareness Watch™ Book/Paper/Article Review
Subject Tracer™ Information Blogs

I am always open to feedback from readers so please feel free to email with all suggestions, reviews and new resources that you feel would be appropriate for inclusion in an upcoming issue of Awareness Watch™. This is an ongoing work of creativity and you will be observing constant changes, constant updates knowing that “change” is the only thing that will remain constant!!

Awareness Watch™ Featured Report

This month's featured report is a special report on my latest research into knowledge discovery. The title of my report is Knowledge Discovery Resources 2009. This comprehensive report comprises hundreds of reliable sources to assist you in identifying best practices, strategies, websites and new technology applications for knowledge discovery on the World Wide Web and Internet.

It should also be noted that I have updated all my white papers covering various areas of research, search, knowledge discovery, information retrieval and information extraction as well as data mining and knowledge harvesting and they are all freely available at:

Knowledge Discovery Resources 2009

An Internet MiniGuide Annotated Link Compilation

By

Marcus P. Zillman, M.S., A.M.H.A.
Executive Director – Virtual Private Library
zillman@virtualprivatelibrary.com

This Internet MiniGuide Annotated Link Compilation is dedicated to the latest and most competent resources for knowledge discovery available over the Internet. With the constant addition of new and pertinent information coming online every second it is very easy to go into information overload. The true key is to be able to find the important knowledge discovery resources and sites both in the visible and invisible World Wide Web. The following selected knowledge discovery resources and sites offer excellent knowledge and information discovery sources to help you accomplish your research goals! Also visit the very latest resources on Knowledge Discovery at the following Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

<http://www.KnowledgeDiscovery.info/>

ACM SIGKDD: Current Explorations Issue

<http://www.acm.org/sigs/sigkdd/explorations/issue.php?issue=current>

Explorations is published twice yearly, in June/July and in December/January each year. The newsletter is distributed in hardcopy form to all members of the ACM SIGKDD. It is also sent to ACM's network of libraries. Online versions are available on the web free to the general public. Their goal is to make the SIGKDD Newsletter an informative, rapid means of publication and dynamic forum for communication with the Knowledge Discovery and Data Mining community.

Advanced Knowledge Technologies

<http://www.aktors.org/>

The Advanced Knowledge Technologies (AKT) project aims to develop and extend a range of technologies providing integrated methods and services for the capture, modelling, publishing, reuse and management of knowledge. AKT is a multi-million pound, six year collaboration between internationally recognized research groups at the Universities of Aberdeen, Edinburgh, the Open University, Sheffield and South Hampton.

APECKS: a Tool to Support Living Ontologies

<http://ksi.cpsc.ucalgary.ca/KAW/KAW98/tennison/index.html>

Ontology servers are currently under-developed in terms of the support they provide for collaborative activities on their content. This paper presents the APECKS (Adaptive Presentation Environment for Collaborative Knowledge Structuring) system, an ontology server which supports collaboration by allowing individuals to create personal ontologies. These ontologies can be compared with others' to prompt discussion about the sources of their differences and similarities.

Association of KnowledgeWork (AOK)

<http://www.kwork.org/index.html>

At the Association of KnowledgeWork, people from every specialty cross professional, geographic, cultural, economic and hierarchical barriers to learn together. Not just another website, this is a virtual home for those who work with knowledge.

BAYESIA: Bayesian Networks and Data Mining Tool

<http://www.bayesia.com/>

The Bayesian Network approach merges and supersedes existing approaches coming from Artificial Intelligence and Data Mining, both symbolic and statistical ones. Bayesian Networks are rigorously justified, provide a distributed knowledge representation, and are as understandable as a rule base. They deal particularly well with uncertainty, and they can be manually generated by consultation of an expert, or inductively built by machine learning.

Bibliomining Information Center - Data Mining for Libraries

<http://www.bibliomining.com/>

The basic definition is "data mining for libraries." For years, bibliometrics has been used to track patterns in authorship, citation, etc. Today, there are many more tools available for discovering similar patterns in complex datasets from data mining and statistics. In addition, tools from management science such as Online Analytical Processing (OLAP) can be used to explore the data for patterns. Therefore, a more complex definition is: Bibliomining is the combination of data mining, bibliometrics, statistics, and reporting tools used to extract patterns of behavior-based artifacts from library systems

Brint.com - Business Technology - Information Economy - Knowledge Management

<http://km.brint.com/>

KMNetwork and the WWW Virtual Library of Knowledge Management combined to bring together an excellent resource for research papers and portals on knowledge management and discovery. In depth research articles and research portals from over the entire global Internet discuss the business, technologies, processes, systems, sociology, creativity, psychology and philosophy of Knowledge Management.

Creative Commons RDF-Enhanced Search

<http://search.creativecommons.org/>

This search engine will help you find photos, music, text, books, educational material, and more that is free to share or build upon. Copyright applies fully and automatically to any work, a photograph, a song, a web page, an article, pretty much any form of expression, the moment it is created. This means that if you want to copy and re-use a creative work you find online, you usually have to ask the author's permission. This "all rights reserved" protection is good thing for many authors and artists. But what about those who want you to use their work freely without permission -- but on certain conditions? This search engine helps you quickly find those authors and the work they have marked as free to use with only "some rights reserved." If you respect the rights they have reserved (which will be clearly marked, as you'll see) then you can use the work without having to contact them and ask. In some cases, you may even find work in the public domain -- that is, free for any use with "no rights reserved."

Conceptual Graphs

<http://conceptualgraphs.org/>

Conceptual graphs (CGs) are a system of logic based on the existential graphs of Charles Sanders Peirce and the semantic networks of artificial intelligence. They express meaning in a form that is logically precise, humanly readable, and computationally tractable. With their direct mapping to language, conceptual graphs serve as an intermediate language for translating computer-oriented formalisms to and from natural languages. With their graphic representation, they serve as a readable, but formal design and specification language. CGs have been implemented in a variety of projects for information retrieval, database design, expert systems, and natural language processing.

D2K - Data To Knowledge

<http://alg.ncsa.uiuc.edu/do/tools/d2k>

D2K - Data to Knowledge is a rapid, flexible data mining and machine learning system that integrates analytical data mining methods for prediction, discovery, and deviation detection, with data and information visualization tools. It offers a visual programming environment that allows users to connect programming modules together to build data mining applications and supplies a core set of modules, application templates, and a standard API for software component development.

Data Mining Resources

<http://www.DataMiningResources.info/>

A Subject Tracer™ Information Blog developed and created by Internet expert, author, keynote speaker and consultant Marcus P. Zillman, M.S., A.M.H.A. for monitoring data mining resources and sites on the Internet.

http://www.bitpipe.com/data/rlist?t=itmgmt\_10\_40\_96

Research the latest Data Mining technologies, tools and techniques. Read white papers, case studies, webcasts and product information from multiple vendors .

Deep Web Research 2009

<http://zillman.blogspot.com/2009/01/llrx-december-2008-issue-deep-web.html>

Web search guru Marcus P. Zillman's guide extensively documents resources that include articles, books, websites, presentations, search engines, and technology applications that facilitate the challenging task of accessing information, published in many formats, that encompass the hundreds of millions of pages comprising the "deep web."

DigiCULT Resources - Resource Discovery & Information Retrieval

<http://www.digicult.info/pages/resources.php?t=21>

An excellent resource listing of resource discovery and information retrieval resources, sources, sites and tools that will definitely aid the researcher in knowledge discovery. This DigiGULT page is updated frequently with the latest resources and tools.

Explore Open Archives

<http://opcit.eprints.org/exploresearchives.shtml>

This site lists and comments on other lists of individual open archives. This list and its categorisation gives a broad overview of the structure, size and progress of full-text open access eprint archives. This list will be maintained and updated as far as is possible, and is intended to assist further quantitative research on the open access eprint phenomenon for those who want to measure the growth and quality of open access eprint archives.

Global Knowledge Partnership (GKP)

<http://www.globalknowledge.org/>

The Global Knowledge Partnership (GKP) is a worldwide network committed to harnessing the potential of information and communication technologies (ICTs)* for sustainable and equitable development. GKP's vision is a world of equal opportunities where all people can access and use knowledge and information to improve their lives. The network enables the sharing of information, experiences and resources to help reduce poverty and empower people.

GMDH - Group Method of Data Handling

<http://come.to/GMDH>

Group Method of Data Handling was applied in a great variety of areas for data mining and knowledge discovery, forecasting and systems modeling, optimization and pattern recognition. Inductive GMDH algorithms give possibility to find automatically interrelations in data, to select optimal structure of model or network and to increase the accuracy of existing algorithms. This original self-organizing approach is substantially different from deductive methods used commonly for modeling. It has inductive nature - it finds the best solution by sorting-out of possible variants.

Gurteen Knowledge Website

<http://www.gurteen.com/>

This site acts as a gateway Knowledge Management, Learning, Thinking, Creativity, Personal Mastery; Personal Knowledge Management and the effective use of Technology. The site has been created by and maintained by David Gurteen an UK-based knowledge consultant.

Google™ Directory – Knowledge Discovery

http://directory.google.com/Top/Reference/Knowledge\_Management/Knowledge\_Discovery/

Google's directory of Knowledge Discovery resources on the world wide web in the following categories: 1) Books, 2) Business and Companies, 3) Data Mining, 4) Information Visualization, 5) Magazines and eZines, 6) OLAP, 7) Organizations, 8) Software, and 9) Test Mining.

IBM Research - Knowledge Discovery & Data Mining (KDD)

<http://www.research.ibm.com/compsci/kdd/>

IBM Research has been at the forefront of the exciting new area of Knowledge Discovery & Data Mining (KDD) from the very beginning. Key advances in robust and scalable data mining, methods for fast pattern detection from very large databases, text and web mining, and innovative business intelligence applications have come from our research laboratories. Links to their current projects as well as KDD links are available from this site.

Insightful Miner 3

<http://www.insightful.com/products/iminer/default.asp>

Insightful Miner is a highly scalable data mining and analysis workbench that gives new analysts and skilled modelers the ability to deploy predictive intelligence throughout the enterprise. Insightful Miner 3 increases support for large data environments with new versions for Windows and Solaris servers and adds many new features that allow data analysts and data miners to easily build and deploy analytic applications that boost product performance and improve the efficiency of critical business processes.

International Workshop on Peer-to-Peer Knowledge Management (P2PKM)

<http://www.p2pkm.org/>

The P2PKM workshop is intended to serve as an active forum for researchers and practitioners, where they will have the possibility to exchange and discuss novel ideas, research results and experiences, laying in the intersection of the P2P, Knowledge Management (KM), Semantic Web, databases, pervasive computing, agents, as well as other related fields.

ITtoolbox Knowledge Management – Knowledge Management Information and Tools

<http://knowledgemanagement.ittoolbox.com/> A comprehensive site for Knowledge Management and Discovery Resources including browse by type of content: Blogs, FAQs, Groups, Jobs, News, Peer Publishing, PR, Research and White Papers. Also available browse by Knowledge Management Topic: Business Intelligence, Business Strategy/Planning, Communication/Collaboration, Data Warehousing, Document/Content Management, e-Learning, Enterprise Portals, General Knowledge management, KM Career, Knowledge Transfer, and Packaged KM Suites.

KBL(sm): A Registry of Library Knowledge Bases

<http://www.public.iastate.edu/~CYBERSTACKS/KBL.htm>

Library-created or library-related Knowledge Bases. A Knowledge Base / Knowledgebase may be defined as a database with a focus on empirical or practical knowledge. In recent years, Knowledge bases have become common components for many businesses and services.

K-CAP2005 - Third International Conference on Knowledge Capture

<http://www.kcap05.org/>

Areas covered: Knowledge engineering and modeling methodologies, Mixed-initiative planning and decision-support tools, Acquisition of problem-solving knowledge, Programming-by-demonstration systems, Knowledge management environments, Knowledge-based markup techniques, Knowledge extraction systems, Knowledge acquisition tools, Advice taking systems, and Learning apprentice.

k-collector – Enterprise Knowledge Aggregator

http://www.evectors.it/itideatools/story\$data=ideatools&num=142&sec=5 k-collector is an enterprise knowledge aggregator that leverages the power of social software, weblogs and shared topics to present new ways of finding and combining the real knowledge in your organization.

KDD-2009: The 15th Annual ACM SIGKDD International Conference on Knowledge Discovery and Data Mining

<http://www.acm.org/sigs/sigkdd/kdd2009/>

The 15th annual ACM SIGKDD conference is the premier international forum for data mining researchers and practitioners from academia, industry, and government to share their ideas, research results and experiences. KDD-09 will feature keynote presentations, oral paper presentations, poster sessions, workshops, tutorials, panels, exhibits, demonstrations, and the KDD Cup competition.

KDnuggets: Data Mining, Web Mining, and Knowledge Discovery Guide

<http://www.kdnuggets.com/>

KDnuggets.com (KD stands for Knowledge Discovery) is the leading source of information on Data Mining, Web Mining, Knowledge Discovery, and Decision Support Topics, including News, Software, Solutions, Companies, Jobs, Courses, Meetings, Publications, and more. KDnuggets News has been widely recognized as the leading newsletter on Data Mining and Knowledge Discovery.

KmBlogger

<http://kmwiki.wikispaces.com/>

A resource covering site, resources, communities and related information about the relationship between blogs and knowledge management and knowledge discovery.

Know-Center - Austria's Competence Center for Knowledge Management

<http://www.know-center.at>

The Know-Center is Austria's Competence Center for knowledge-based Applications and Systems. The Know-Center has its core competences in the fields of information technology as enabling technologies for knowledge management and in human-oriented knowledge management.

Knowledge Discovery

<http://www.KnowledgeDiscovery.info/>

A Subject Tracer™ Information Blog developed and created by Internet expert, author, keynote speaker and consultant Marcus P. Zillman, M.S., A.M.H.A. for monitoring knowledge discovery resources and sites on the Internet.

Knowledge Harvesting

<http://www.KnowledgeHarvesting.org/>

Knowledge Harvesting is used to rapidly convert top-performer expertise into knowledge assets that enhance corporate valuation and protect the organization from knowledge degradation. The purpose of this site is to offer an extensive introduction to Knowledge Harvesting.

Knowledge Management Cluster Web

<http://www.kmcluster.com/>

KMCluster focus is knowledge management (KM). Focus is also on the key KM techniques of enterprise collaboration (EC), organizational learning (OL), communities of practice (CP), social networks (SN), intellectual capital (IC), complexity science (CS), content management (CM), measurement & metrics (MM), policy & procedures (PP), innovation & invention (II) and analytics & taxonomies (AT).

Knowledge Management Magazine – Inside Knowledge

<http://www.kmmagazine.com/>

The original knowledge management publication. The knowledge that exists within your organisation is your only sustainable source of competitive advantage. They believe this makes knowledge management a strategic imperative for you. Each issue of Inside Knowledge is designed to provide you with the information you require to: 1) Learn from the mistakes and success stories of others, 2) Lower business costs and increase productivity across your organization, 3) Ensure the ongoing professional development of yourself and your colleagues, and 4) Keep on top of industry developments, new techniques and tools for knowledge management and knowledge discovery.

Knowledge Management Research Center - CIO

http://www.cio.com/topic/1467/Knowledge\_Management

Making the most of intellectual capital. Topics in the Knowledge Management Research Center include: 1) Overview, 2) Strategy, 3) Process, 4) Measurement, 5) Technology, 6) Portal and Collaboration, 7) In the Know, 8) Case Studies, 9) Metrics, 10) CIO Radio, 11) Q&A, 12) Books, 13) Events, and 14) Newsletters. A comprehensive research center presented and updated by CIO.

Knowledge Management Resource Center

<http://www.kmresource.com/>

Knowledge Management Resource Center is a gateway to the world of Knowledge Management (KM). On this site you'll find a comprehensive collection of KM resources, each reviewed and described to help you quickly locate what you're looking for. You can explore knowledge management in their 17 departments, browse their bookstore, or search the site by keyword.

Linguistic Tools for Knowledge Discovery

<http://www.montague.com/abstracts/discovery.htm>

The gaps between subject and functional boundaries are one of the best sources of breakthrough innovation. Yet for a variety of reasons — managerial, technical, and editorial — it's often difficult to exploit them. In this article they use an example from their own research and experience to show how linguistic tools such as thesauri, glossaries, and navigation schemes can promote knowledge discovery by exposing potential linkages between seemingly unrelated subjects.

my Knowledge Explorer (mKE) and the mKR Language

<http://mKRmKE.org/>

my Knowledge Explorer (MKE) is an interactive tool for organizing knowledge. It helps the user to record, change and search knowledge, and provides extensive error checking to ensure the internal consistency of the knowledge. Interaction with mKE uses the mKR language. mKR is a very-high-level knowledge representation language with simple English-like statements, questions and commands, plus UNIX-shell-like variables, methods and control structures.

Megaputer Intelligence

<http://www.megaputer.com/>

Megaputer Intelligence Inc., a Delaware corporation established in May of 1997, is a leading developer and distributor of advanced software tools for data mining, text mining, and intelligent e-commerce personalization. Their tools help reveal knowledge hidden in data. They add intelligence and insight to every step of the business decision-making process. The mission of Megaputer is to provide customers around the world with top quality software tools for transforming raw data into knowledge and facilitating better business decisions.

Open Directory – Knowledge Discovery

http://dmoz.org/Reference/Knowledge\_Management/Knowledge\_Discovery/ A listing of knowledge discovery resources broken into the following categories: 1) Books, 2) Business and Companies, 3) Magazine and eZines, 4) Organizations, 5) Software, 6) Data Mining, 7) Information Visualization, 8) OLAP, and 9) Text Mining.

PEPITe S.A.

<http://www.pepite.be/>

PEPITe is a company specialized in intelligent data exploration and knowledge extraction techniques. PEPITe sells Knowledge Discovery in Databases (KDD) solutions. These solutions combine software modules and services. PEPITe offers a complete range of services and products dedicated to industrial Data Mining (DM) applications.

SPSS, Data Mining, Statistical Analysis Software, Predictive Analysis, Predictive Analytics, Decision Support Systems

<http://www.netgen.com/>

SPSS predictive analytics, enterprise applications, and decisioning systems provide the most effective means for you to shape your organization's future for knowledge management and knowledge discovery. A very large selection of commercial based products from data mining to knowledge discovery.

STATISTICA - Data Mining, Data Analysis, Quality Control, and Web Analytics Software

<http://www.statsoft.com/>

StatSoft's flagship product line is the STATISTICA suite of analytics software products. STATISTICA provides the most comprehensive array of data analysis, data management, data visualization and data mining procedures. Its techniques include the widest selection of predictive modeling, clustering, classification and exploratory techniques in one software platform. Ideal for the knowledge discovery starter kit ....

T2K - Text to Knowledge

<http://alg.ncsa.uiuc.edu/do/tools/t2k>

The T2K (Text to Knowledge) tool provides text mining and analysis capabilities that have been specially designed to operate in and capitalize upon the complexity of rich natural language domains of very large stores of text and multimedia documents. T2K is a library of D2K modules that implements sophisticated algorithms for text analysis.

Telemakus - Mining and Mapping Research Findings to Promote Knowledge Discovery

<http://www.telemakus.net/>

The goal of the Telemakus System is to enhance the knowledge discovery process by developing retrieval, visual and interaction tools to mine and map research findings from the research literature. The objective of the research is to create, test and validate an infrastructure to permit the automation of the creation and maintenance of a searchable database that generates knowledge maps via query tools and concept mapping algorithms. We will also be applying natural language processing models and information analysis methods to ultimately speed up the scientific discovery process.

The Data Mine

<http://www.the-data-mine.com/>

The Data Mine was launched in April 1994, to provide information about DataMining (AKA KnowledgeDiscoveryInDatabases or KDD). There are 6 separate DataMining topic areas (known as "webs"), each with an index. You could also start with the IntroductionToDataMining. Popular pages include: OnLine Analytical Processing (OLAP) , Data Mining Journals, Data Mining Tutorials, Data Sources. Topic areas include: Data Mining Software, Data Mining Index, Data Mining General/Misc, People Working in Data Mining, and Data Mining Companies and Organizations.

The Protégé Project

<http://protege.stanford.edu/>

Protégé is an ontology editor and a knowledge-base editor. Protégé is also an open-source, Java tool that provides an extensible architecture for the creation of customized knowledge-based applications. Protégé's OWL Plug-in now provides support for editing Semantic Web ontologies.

Visual Analytics - VisuaLinks, Link Analysis, Data Mining Software

<http://www.visualanalytics.com/>

VisuaLinks® is a platform-independent, graphical analysis tool used to discover patterns, trends, associations and hidden networks in any number and type of data sources. VisuaLinks presents data graphically uncovering underlying relationships and patterns. VisuaLinks addresses the entire analytical process – from access and integration to presentation and reporting – providing a single and complete solution to a broad range of data analysis needs.

UCI Knowledge Discovery in Databases Archive

<http://kdd.ics.uci.edu/>

This is an online repository of large data sets which encompasses a wide variety of data types, analysis tasks, and application areas. The primary role of this repository is to enable researchers in knowledge discovery and data mining to scale existing and future data analysis algorithms to very large and complex data sets. The archive is intended to serve as a permanent repository of publicly-accessible data sets for research in KDD and data mining.

Nationwide Directory of Public Records Resources

<http://publicrecords.onlinesearches.com/>

PublicRecords.OnlineSearches.com provides thousands of links to access public records in every state and county in the United States. Use of their links is absolutely free, although some state or county agencies may charge fees for accessing public records. All links indicate whether online public records searches are available for free, as paid services, or not available online. They also attempt to provide contact information for each related agency. This has been added to Finding People Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. This has been added to Business Intelligence Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

IET Discover

<http://discover.theiet.org/>

With IET Discover, you can: a) Find: Search for articles, reports and resources and other resources other engineers are finding useful; b) Share: Save your bookmarks in one place so you can access them from any computer and share them easily; and c) Connect: Join (or create) groups that match your interests to see what your peers are reading. This has been added to Knowledge Discovery Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Reservoir - Infrastructure for Cloud Computing

<http://www.reservoir-fp7.eu/>

Resources and Services Virtualization without Barriers is an European Union FP7 funded project that will enable massive scale deployment and management of complex IT services across different administrative domains, IT platforms and geographies. The project will provide a foundation for a service-based online economy, where - using virtualization technologies - resources and services are transparently provisioned and managed on an on-demand basis at competitive costs with high quality of service. Web 2.0 is rapidly taking hold, offering "the web as a platform". In parallel, traditional client-server computing is starting to lose ground as a new paradigm emerges - the Cloud Computing paradigm. Cloud Computing allows data centers to operate more like the Internet by enabling computing across a distributed, globally accessible fabric of resources, delivering service based on demand over the web, reducing software complexity and costs, expediting time-to-market, improving reliability and enhancing accessibility of consumers to government and business services. Thus, Cloud Computing represents a true materialization of Service-Oriented Computing's visionary promise. In RESERVOIR, they are developing breakthrough system and service technologies that will serve as the infrastructure for Cloud Computing. They aim to achieve this goal by creative coupling of virtualization, grid computing, and business service management techniques. This has been added to Grid Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

OpenNebula - The Engine for Data Center Virtualization & Cloud Solutions

<http://www.opennebula.org/doku.php>

OpenNebula is an open source virtual infrastructure engine that enables the dynamic deployment and re-placement of virtual machines on a pool of physical resources. ONE (OpenNebula) extends the benefits of virtualization platforms from a single physical resource to a pool of resources, decoupling the server not only from the physical infrastructure but also from the physical location. This has been added to Grid Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

SCImago Journal & Country Rank

<http://www.scimagojr.com/>

The SCImago Journal & Country Rank is a portal that includes the journals and country scientific indicators developed from the information contained in the Scopus® database (Elsevier B.V.). These indicators can be used to assess and analyze scientific domains. This platform takes its name from the SCImago Journal Rank (SJR) indicator, developed by SCImago from the widely known algorithm Google PageRank™. This indicator shows the visibility of the journals contained in the Scopus® database from 1996. This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. This has been added to Reference Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Learning & Behavior

<http://lb.psychonomic-journals.org/>

Learning & Behavior (formerly Animal Learning & Behavior) publishes experimental and theoretical contributions and critical reviews concerning fundamental processes of learning and behavior in non-human and human animals. Topics covered include sensation, perception, conditioning, learning, attention, memory, motivation, emotion, development, social behavior, and comparative investigations.

Mp3Realm - Mp3 Search Engine

<http://mp3realm.org/>

Mp3Realm is an evolving search engine focused distinctively on audio in Mp3 format. Mp3Realm allows you to search for your favorite songs and clips, and filter them out by file duration. Your searches can be based on artist, title, genre or album. Mp3Realm also index's lyrics, so you can sing along to your favorite songs. ## OdinJobs - IT Jobs and Technology Job Search Engine

<http://www.odinjobs.com/>

Odin collects jobs from job boards, corporate websites, groups etc. At last count Odin is collecting over million jobs from 50,000 companies. To fulfill the key part of their mission - get the "Right" IT job, Odin features a matching technology that sifts through all the jobs and selects the right ones based on your qualification, experience and preference. Instead of using keywords and displaying 1000's of weak to irrelevant jobs, Odin employs language processing and artificial intelligence to determine the fitness of a job for you and shows you only the right ones. They want you to find the right IT job. They want to make your search easier and faster and more relevant. This has been added to Employment Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

BookRix - Web Your Book

<http://www.bookrix.com/>

BookRix is an internet portal and the first book community where anyone can place their own books, short stories, poems etc. to be promoted on the web, just like a published piece. The massive Web 2.0 - Projects, which have been hugely popular with music, video and photography fans, now have a sister platform, which will delight literature fans around the world: BookRix. BookRix provides an online destination where authors can showcase their work. Registered users will get to design their own personal profile page. This gives users the opportunity to create their own books, recommend their favorite literature and promote themselves as authors and/or readers. ## Journal of Alternative Perspectives in the Social Sciences (JAPSS)

<http://journal.vpweb.com/>

The Journal of Alternative Perspectives in the Social Sciences was established by a group of scholars from around the world to promote the following goals and principles:

- * To give voice to scholars and practitioners around the world;
- * To promote the diffusion of <sup>3</sup>subjugated knowledge<sup>2</sup> and marginalized discourses;
- * To provide a forum for the deliberation and scholarly exploration of alternative paradigms in the social sciences;
- * To promote and facilitate the publication of articles, ethnographies, and other scholarly writings reflecting the previously mentioned principles.

Bookboon - Download Free Student and Travel Books

<http://bookboon.com/>

Bookboon.com/Bookboon.co.uk is a website where students can download free books in pdf-format, without registration. The books are written in English by professors from Europe, which ensures a high quality standard. The books are summary versions of the long textbooks students usually buy and therefore should be considered secondary literature, which enables us to provide concise, to-the-point material of only about 100 pages per book. They can serve as inspiration for projects or helpful time-saving material in exam periods for explaining the difficult models of for example micro economics, macro economics and statistics. The free books are financed by a low number of Advertisements that are found inside the books. BookBoon has a high standard when choosing which companies can advertise in the books, for example gambling, beer and other unethical ads will not be found in BookBoon books. ## MrCute Project - An Intuitive Respository for Moodle

<http://www.learningobjectivity.com/mrcute/>

This is the information and development area for phase 2 of the MrCute project. MrCute is an acronym for Moodle Repository Create Upload Tag Embed, and is intended as an optional Moodle module and block which allow direct and straightforward access to institutional and other repositories of online learning materials. MrCute 1 was released as a Moodle extension at the end of March 2008. Phase 2 will be released at the end of March 2009 but it is hoped that it will be available for testing some time before that. Mrcute is intended primarily within the United Kingdom and some portions may only function fully in the UK, but is released under an Open Source licence for use anywhere in the world. MrCute has been funded by JISC and is a project of Worcester College of Technology and Learning Objectivity. We are working in cooperation with Jorum (the UK National FE/HE Learning Materials Repository). This has been added to the tools section of Research Resources Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

MIT Center for Real Estate

<http://web.mit.edu/cre/>

MIT founded the Center for Real Estate in 1983 to improve the quality of the built environment and to promote more informed professional practice in the global real estate industry. Educating the men and women whose innovations will serve the industry worldwide, they are home to the first-ever one year Master of Science in Real Estate Development (MSRED) degree, as well as an integrated suite of professional development courses. Their pioneering research investigates the real estate transaction from initial concept to market reality, providing breakthrough knowledge that helps organizations to capitalize on today's dynamic markets and technologies. Uniting industry leaders with MIT's distinguished researchers and students, their selective industry partnership program advances the art and science of international real estate, and bridges the gap between theory and practice. The structures built by the real estate industry comprise over a third of the world's tangible wealth, and are responsible for over a third of the world's energy consumption and CO2 emissions. For the industry to maintain its responsible leadership in the global community, it must encourage a culture of sustainability and innovation that meets the challenges of an increasingly interconnected world. MIT is uniquely positioned to help the industry increase its efficiency, prosperity, and social responsibility. Through research and education initiatives at the MIT Center for Real Estate, MIT applies its tradition of excellence in technology, knowledge transfer, and global reach to the real estate industry, developing innovations to help practitioners build responsibly and profitably. Their goal is to educate the next generations of industry leaders, preparing them with tools to develop better real estate worldwide. In keeping with the MIT tradition, they bring to industry the very best offered by practical experience coupled with the interdisciplinary studies of design, science, and engineering. They offer: a) A specialized, globally recognized, one-year Master of Science in Real Estate Development (MSRED) program that emphasizes the creation, operation, and management of the physical product of real estate; b) A unique, interdisciplinary research platform that links academia with industry to meet the need for more informed decision-making based on practical knowledge; and c) A network of global outreach that links the real estate industry with Center graduates and MIT to develop and support the industry's long-term growth. ### wePapers - Creating the World's Biggest Study Group for Knowledge Discovery

<http://www.wepapers.com/>

wePapers is a place where students (and everybody) can expand their knowledge and share their wisdom, for free. They created wePapers to help people learn from one-another. The idea is simple: they think everyone has something to teach, and anyone can become a teacher, a guru or a mentor. More important, they believe everybody deserves the right to learn for free. wePapers is where you find the kind of quality information you wouldn't find anywhere else on the web, the kind of papers you'd have to dig for in dusty library basements and still not find what you're looking for. wePapers is also where you share what you've learned, with people who are learning the same thing. You can discuss your work with them and get useful feedback. Whether to help you graduate with honors or just win an argument, they have created WePapers to help make you smarter, much smarter. ## Ecosystems

<http://www.springer.com/life+sci/ecology/journal/10021>

The study and management of ecosystems represents the most dynamic field of contemporary ecology. Ecosystem research bridges fundamental ecology, environmental ecology and environmental problem-solving. The scope of ecosystem science extends from bounded systems such as watersheds to spatially complex landscapes, to the Earth itself, and crosses temporal scales from seconds to millennia. Ecosystem science has strong links to other disciplines including landscape ecology, global ecology, biogeochemistry, aquatic ecology, soil science, hydrology, ecological economics and conservation biology. Studies of ecosystems employ diverse approaches, including theory and modeling, long-term investigations, comparative research and large experiments. ### BestCoverly - Discover the Best of Everything

<http://www.bestcoverly.com/>

Bestcoverly is the fastest, easiest way to find the best of everything. There is always one item in every category that stands out as the best. Whether you're looking for the best ultra-portable laptop, 42-inch LCD TV, iPod speaker system, or budget digital camera, our experts quickly identify the best one for your needs. And soon they will be covering thousands of products and services. Everyone wants the best. Not the second-best, or something way down the list. Most other sources of information don't cover all the relevant choices, or make you to plod through endless reviews. Their results can be contradictory, incomplete, or out-of-date. And they often pull punches to avoid offending advertisers. Bestcoverly is different. It relies on real experts to tell you the best product or service for your particular needs. It's absolutely unbiased, comprehensive, and current. Bestcoverly eliminates long hours of research and guesswork on your part. And it's fast, free, and easy to use. Bestcoverly experts are very knowledgeable and passionate. They spend hours extensively researching the products and services they cover and have a great deal of experience. They know all the specs, abilities, and weaknesses of the contenders, understand what's important to look for and what's not, and can pick the best one with the highest degree of reliability. They rely on their community of experts, enthusiasts, and users to ensure that the best picks remain unbiased and truly represent what's best in the current marketplace. ### eMedicine - Point of Care Medical Reference for Physicians and Healthcare Professionals

<http://www.emedicine.com/>

eMedicine is the most authoritative and accessible point of care medical reference available to physicians and other healthcare professionals on the Internet. The evidence-based content, updated regularly by nearly 10,000 attributed physician authors and editors, provides the latest practice guidelines in 59 medical specialties. The eMedicine Clinical Knowledge Base contains articles on nearly 7,000 diseases and disorders and is richly illustrated with some 30,000 multimedia files. New eMedicine articles undergo four levels of physician peer review plus an additional review by a PharmD prior to publication. Subsequent revisions of articles may be provided by the physician author, or a physician or PharmD member of the editorial board associated with each article, and are managed by our professional medical editing staff. Updates after the initial peer review do not generally go through subsequent peer review, though select articles may undergo a level of repeat peer review. Launched in 1996, eMedicine is proud to be certified by the Health On the Net Foundation (HONConduct #256884) verifying compliance with its 8 principles of conduct. In compliance with the guidance associated with the fourth principle - attribution - eMedicine posts the date of the last revision of any kind on each article. ### uClassify - Free text Classifier Web Service

<http://www.uclassify.com/>

Their dream is to share hardcore classifier technology with everyone. They recognized that classifiers are mostly present at universities research departments and expensive commercial companies. They want to change that. They want everyone to have the possibility to use a top notch classifier - completely free. They find it enormously exciting to see what happens when a tool for creativity is given to the community. They hope to see all kinds of beyond-our-imagination classifiers and incredible web applications being built around the API. Using the API (xml requests) you can easily build applications using an advanced classification engine without having to be a scientist. The purpose of the beta is to ensure: a) Usability - documentation; b) API and homepage is understandable; c) Performance - making sure that the classifier operates fast enough; and d) Stability - crashes are unacceptable. The beta period will run as long as necessary and they ask you to send us your feedback. Accounts and classifiers created during the beta will be kept and compatible into future versions. ### Propeller - Social News Portal

<http://www.propeller.com/>

Propeller is a social news portal, meaning that it is programmed by you – the audience. Their members post links to stories from all over the Web. Many of these stories originate from the websites of traditional media, including newspapers and magazines. But you will also find many stories that seldom pop up in the mainstream. Perhaps it does take a village – or at least a large community of news-hungry citizens – to nudge certain stories into the limelight. The appearance of a story on Propeller is only the beginning. Once the link has been posted, you can vote on it, comment on it, share it with friends, or bookmark it to read later. In this context, news is not simply a pile of facts to be absorbed. It is a conversation. It is a process. And above all, it is fun: not a word we always associate with the news. Propeller is not an absolute free-for-all. It is a moderated site, meaning that they oversee the posts, conversations, and other activity. In part this is to weed out the spam and objectionable content that are the bane of the contemporary Web. But they also maintain certain standards of civility. Members who lob personal insults or racial smears will be ejected. So will sock puppets and stalkers of any kind. This oversight is performed by their editorial staff, with the help of the Propeller Scouts.

Materials

<http://www.mdpi.com/journal/materials/>

Materials is an open-access journal of related scientific research and technology development. It publishes reviews, regular research papers (articles) and short communications. Their aim is to encourage scientists to publish their experimental and theoretical details in as much detail as possible. Therefore, there is no restriction on the length of the papers. The full experimental details must be provided so that the results can be reproduced. Materials provides a forum for publishing papers which advance the in-depth understanding of the relationship between the structure, the properties or the functions of all kinds of materials. Chemical syntheses, chemical structures and mechanical, chemical, electronic, magnetic and optical properties and various applications will be considered. Topics Covered:

- * Class of materials include ceramics, glasses, polymers (plastics), semiconductors, magnetic materials, medical implant materials and biological materials, silica and carbon materials, metals and metallic alloys. All kinds of functional materials including material for dentistry. Composites, coatings and films, pigments. Classes of materials such as ionic crystals; covalent crystals; metals; intermetallics.
- * Materials science or materials engineering. Nanoscience and nanotechnology will be considered also.
- * Characterization techniques such as electron microscopy, x-ray diffraction, calorimetry, nuclear microscopy (HEFIB), Rutherford backscattering, neutron diffraction, etc.
- * Fundamental research: Condensed matter physics and materials physics. Continuum mechanics and statistics. Mechanics of materials. Tribology (friction, lubrication and wear). Solid-state physics.

Several topical special issues will be published.

Journal of Negative Results - Ecology & Evolutionary Biology (JNR)

<http://www.jnr-eeb.org/index.php/jnr>

The primary intention of Journal of Negative Results (JNR) is to provide an online-medium for the publication of peer-reviewed, sound scientific work in ecology and evolutionary biology that may otherwise remain unknown. In recent years, the trend has been to publish only studies with 'significant' results and to ignore studies that seem uneventful. This may lead to a biased, perhaps untrue, representation of what exists in nature. By counter-balancing such selective reporting, JNR aims to expand the capacity for formulating generalizations. The work to be published in JNR will include studies that 1) test novel or established hypotheses/theories that yield negative or dissenting results, or 2) replicate work published previously (in either cognate or different systems). ### Deep Web Research 2009 White Paper Link Compilation

<http://www.DeepWeb.us/>

I have just created an easy to remember and direct link to my 51 page Deep Web Research 2009 White Paper Link Compilation. It is a 1.13MB .pdf document that lists thousands of links and resources that one can use to discover new knowledge in the Deep Web where many search engines fear to tread! Excellent sources and resources to aid you in your search and research both for the newbie as well as the seasoned veteran. When you are explaining the Deep Web or Invisible Web use this easy to remember (DeepWeb.us) resource to explain and to give immediate sources. This white paper is updated frequently.

novoseek - Search Engine for BioMedical Literature in Medline

<http://www.novoseek.com/>

novoseek is an information extraction system developed by bioalma for searching the published knowledge in biomedical literature. novoseek indexes the biomedical literature with a text mining technology that enables identification of the key biomedical terms. To do this unambiguous identification the technology takes into account external available data and contextual term information. As a result of this indexing technology novoseek is able to retrieve every document where a term is mentioned no matter the synonym used and discards those documents where the term is used with an unwanted meaning. With novoseek you can: a) Extract precise information for over 3 million key biomedical concepts, no matter whether they are diseases, drugs, chemicals compounds, symptoms or genes; b) Retrieve key biomedical concepts and bibliographic information to your query; c) Highlight relevant biomedical concepts in the text; d) Filter your results fast and easy; e) Review key information derived from over thousands of documents in a single screen; f) Search for an author and find key research concepts based on the analysis of his or her research; and g) Link to relevant external chemical and biological information. ## Feedsclub - Feeds Filter Based Upon Your Preferences

<http://www.feedsclub.com/>

You went to your favorite sites, you subscribed to their RSS feeds, and now you're getting their content delivered to your reader. You've cut down on hours of aimless surfing and all the good stuff is coming straight to you. So why do you still need to sift through hundreds of items to find what you actually want to read? Use Feedsclub instead to sift through and find the good stuff! Feedsclub filters your feeds based on your preferences. Subscribe to all your favorite feeds, then tell Feedsclub which posts you do and don't like. Feedsclub will learn your preferences and begin filtering out posts that don't interest you. ### Studies in Science Education (SiSE)

<http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/titles/03057267.asp>

The central aim of Studies in Science Education (SiSE) is to publish review articles of the highest quality which provide analytical syntheses of research into key topics and issues in science education. In addressing this aim, the Editors and Editorial Advisory Board, are guided by a commitment to:

- * maintaining and developing the highest standards of scholarship associated with the journal.
- * publishing articles from as wide a range of authors as possible, in relation both to professional background and country of origin.
- * publishing articles which serve both to consolidate and reflect upon existing fields of study and to promote new areas for research activity.

Studies in Science Education will be of interest to all those involved in science education including: science education researchers, doctoral students and masters students; science teachers at elementary, high school and university levels; science education policy makers; science education curriculum developers and text book writers.

EPA - Enforcement and Compliance History Online (EPA-ECHO)

<http://www.epa-echo.gov/echo/>

EPA is committed to public access to environmental information and has worked with states to develop a format for providing Internet access to information contained in core EPA data systems. ECHO focuses on facility compliance and EPA/state enforcement of environmental regulations. Though the data included within ECHO have been in the public domain through Freedom of Information Act requests and mainframe computer subscription, the information was not available in a searchable Web format. ECHO makes it much easier for the public to obtain these data records on the Internet. EPA has worked with state governments to develop the content of the site and ensure accurate data. A Joint EPA-state Enforcement and Compliance Public Access Workgroup developed the template for the type, sources, and amount of data to be included within ECHO. This workgroup, developed in partnership with The Environmental Council of the states (ECOS), made its recommendations in June 2000. To prepare for launch of ECHO, EPA and the states conducted a comprehensive data review to ensure high quality information. ECHO also includes on the site an online error reporting process that allows users to alert EPA and the states to possible errors. ECHO is a Web interface that draws data from the Integrated Data for Enforcement Analysis system (IDEA). IDEA, operated by EPA's Office of Enforcement and Compliance Assurance, integrates facility data from disparate EPA databases. ECHO provides integrated compliance and enforcement information for approximately 800,000 regulated facilities nationwide. The site allows users to find inspection, violation, enforcement action, informal enforcement action, and penalty information about facilities for the past three years. Facilities regulated under the following environmental statutes are included: Clean Air Act (CAA) Stationary Source Program, Clean Water Act (CWA) National Pollutant Elimination Discharge System (NPDES), and Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). ECHO reports provide a snapshot of a facility's environmental record, showing dates and types of violations, as well as the state or federal government's response. ECHO reports also contain demographic information from the National Census. EPA, state and local environmental agencies, and the facilities collect/report the data that are submitted to EPA databases. This has been added to Green Files Subject Tracer™ Information Blog. International Journal of Agricultural and Biological Engineering (IJABE) is an international peer-reviewed open-access journal sponsored and published jointly by US-based Association of Overseas Chinese Agricultural, Biological and Food Engineers (AOCABFE) and Chinese Society of Agricultural Engineering (CSAE). The IJABE is published in both online version and hard copy. Open access IJABE provides wider sharing of knowledge and the acceleration of research, and is thus in the best interest of authors, potential readers, and increases the availability, accessibility, visibility and impact of the papers, and journal as a whole. IJABE aims at developing agricultural and biological engineering, promoting the prosperity of academics, and improving international academic exchange and cooperation. This journal provides a home for the latest high-quality research concerning the agricultural, food and biological engineering and the application of bio-agricultural engineering techniques in all areas of agriculture. The journal features works of great significance, originality, and relevance in all the

Genetics Selection Evolution

<http://www.gsejournal.org/home/>

Genetics Selection Evolution is an open access, peer-reviewed, on-line journal dedicated to presenting original research on all aspects of genetics and selection in both farm and experimental animals and in any related species. With the vast, recent increase in the amount and spectrum of available genetic data, there is an ever-increasing requirement for the collaboration and successful integration of varied results and techniques in furthering the advancement of the future of animal genetics. GSE focuses on contributing to these developments by providing a high-visibility forum for the dissemination of relevant research and reviews that will prompt new insights and discussions as well as stimulate new research in the field. The journal invites basic, applied and methodological content that will aid the current understanding of animal genetic variability as well as further its use. GSE publishes results from all levels of study, from the gene to the quantitative trait, from the individual to the population, the breed or the species. Material concerning both the biological approach, from molecular genetics to animal sciences, as well as the mathematical one, from population genetics to statistics, is welcome. Specific areas of interest include: gene identification, mapping, QTL and markers, functional genomics, cytogenetics, genetic diversity of populations and breeds, genetic evaluation,

Evolutionary Biology

<http://www.springer.com/life+sci/journal/11692>

Evolutionary Biology is dedicated to the view that evolutionary theory is a unifying framework for the biosciences. The journal is a forum in which critical reviews, original research, commentaries, and controversial views are brought together to contribute to greater understanding of the origins and diversity of life. This vision reflects the original intent of the serial publication Evolutionary Biology, first published in 1967 as a forum in which some of the most important papers in Evolutionary Biology appeared. The topics varied greatly and many of the papers were synthetic in nature. Although some existing journals deal with various facets of evolutionary biology, Evolutionary Biology fills the need for a journal which remains true to the vision and intent laid out by Dobzhansky et al. but that is adapted to today's publication environment. Evolutionary Biology provides a focal point for broad syntheses, in-depth treatment and controversial ideas.

Indian Journal of Science and Technology publishes original research work in the form of Research articles. The basic research findings and technological advancements in various fields of science can find place. Indian Journal of Science and Technology comes forward to publish innovative methods and approaches in science & technology learning. Authors can publish themes, observations and tests aiming at any educational level (primary, secondary or tertiary education). Relevant topics of much educational importance to wide student population of the developing countries, written by the author(s) of their own style can also find place in Indian Journal of Science and Technology. Particularly, problem-based elearning methods, creation of user- friendly digital learning source, animation models and virtual tools are encouraged. "Mini-projects" for students and "learning science for fun" can be included. Indian Journal of Science and Technology welcomes for publication the reviews and mini-reviews of the current importance and at the same time they pave way for future. Reviews generally cover those topics of obscured or scattered information which demand logical analysis by putting the pieces together. It should generate newer outlook on socio-scientific problem.

Capitol Words - Word Frequency From the Congressional Record

<http://www.capitolwords.org/>

For every day Congress is in session, Capitol Words visualizes the most frequently used words in the Congressional Record, giving you an at-a-glance view of which issues lawmakers address on a daily, weekly, monthly and yearly basis. Capitol Words lets you see what are the most popular words spoken by lawmakers on the House and Senate floor. But wait, there's more! Capitol Words also gives you the ability to view with greater granularity which words are most frequently used by Congress as a whole, by state delegation or by specific lawmaker. It also reports on word usage trends: You can search by specific word to see its usage frequency over time, including which lawmakers most mention that term. You can also compare usage of individual terms (e.g., health vs. education) or groups of terms (e.g., health + education vs. war + terror). You can see who are the most vocal or quietest members of Congress (i.e., those who have the most or least words attributed to them in the Congressional Record, including via extended remarks). The Capitol Words site is powered by data collected by Sunlight's LOUIS database from GPO Access. Its API provides several methods of accessing detailed information from the Capitol Words database. All data, the calendar view of the word of the day and charts showing word usage trends go back to the second session of the 106th Congress (January 24, 2000). Views that attribute word usage to lawmakers date back to the beginning of the 110th Congress (January 3, 2007). ### Stimulus Watch - Keeping an Eye On the Economic Recovery Spending

<http://www.StimulusWatch.org/>

StimulusWatch.org was built to help the new administration keep its pledge to invest stimulus money smartly, and to hold public officials to account for the taxpayer money they spend. We do this by allowing you, citizens around the country with local knowledge about the proposed "shovel-ready" projects in your city, to find, discuss and rate those projects. These projects are not part of the stimulus bill. They are candidates for funding by federal grant programs once the bill passes. ## Cytoscape - Open Source Bioinformatics Platform for Network Analysis and Visualization

<http://cytoscape.org/>

Cytoscape is an open source bioinformatics software platform for visualizing molecular interaction networks and biological pathways and integrating these networks with annotations, gene expression profiles and other state data. Although Cytoscape was originally designed for biological research, now it is a general platform for complex network analysis and visualization. Cytoscape core distribution provides a basic set of features for data integration and visualization. Additional features are available as plugins. Plugins are available for network and molecular profiling analyses, new layouts, additional file format support, scripting, and connection with databases. Plugins may be developed by anyone using the Cytoscape open API based on Java™ technology and plugin community development is encouraged. Most of the plugins are freely available. This has been added to Biological Informatics Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Open Environmental Sciences

<http://www.bentham.org/open/toenvirsj/>

Open Environmental Sciences is an Open Access online journal, which publishes research articles, reviews, and letters in all areas of environmental studies and environmental sciences, including environmental planning and management. Open Environmental Sciences, a peer-reviewed journal, aims to provide the most complete and reliable source of information on current developments in the field. The emphasis will be on publishing quality papers rapidly and freely available to researchers worldwide. This has been added to Green Files Subject Tracer™ Information Blog.

Lovely Charts - Free Online Diagramming Application

<http://www.lovelycharts.com/>

Lovely Charts is a free online diagramming application that allows you to create professional looking diagrams of all kinds, such as flowcharts, sitemaps, organization charts, wireframes, and many more. Most diagramming softwares require you to worry about things like choosing colors, drawing arrows, picking up the correct symbols, etc... All sort of things that get between your ideas and their representation. With Lovely Charts's extremely simple and intuitive drag'n drop drawing mechanism, you're able to focus on what really matters. Based on the type of diagram you're drawing, Lovely Charts will make assumptions that will streamline the drawing process in such a way you'll never want to go back. ### Notecentric - A Place For Your Class Notes

<http://www.notecentric.com/>

Notecentric is a web based note taking application. Notecentric keeps your notes organized and readily available online. Your notes are always in one place, so you don't have to worry about synchronizing them. Notecentric is a social class note sharing website. The main focus of Notecentric is to allow university students to have their notes wherever they go and be able to easily share their notes with classmates. Once notes are entered in Notecentric, users will have access to them wherever web access is available. In addition, classmates who have Notecentric accounts will automatically have access to those notes (unless the notes are tagged as "private"). ### Frontiers in Neuroinformatics

<http://www.frontiersin.org/neuroinformatics/>

Frontiers in Neuroinformatics is an electronic journal devoted to studies on the creation of neuroscience data and knowledge bases, together with the development and use of numerical models and analytical tools for the sharing, integration and analysis of experimental data and the advancement of theories of nervous system function. Neuroscience is being propelled into the information age as the volume of information explodes, demanding organization and synthesis. Novel synthesis approaches are opening up a new dimension for the exploration of the components of brain elements and systems and the vast number of variables that underlie their functions. Neural data is highly heterogeneous with complex inter-relations across multiple levels, driving the need for innovative organizing and synthesizing approaches from genes to cognition, and covering a range of species and disease states. Frontiers in Neuroinformatics therefore welcomes submissions on existing neuroscience databases, development of data and knowledge bases for all levels of neuroscience, applications and technologies that can facilitate data sharing (interoperability, formats, terminologies, and ontologies), and novel tools for data acquisition, analyses, visualization, and dissemination of nervous system data. Their journal welcomes submissions on new tools (software and hardware) that support brain modeling, and the merging of neuroscience databases with brain models used for simulation and visualization. They also welcome submissions on clinical neuroscience databases and the use of novel informatics approaches to merge clinical with basic neuroscience data. Frontiers in Neuroinformatics aims to catalyze advances in this immense area of research to support neuroscience in the information age.

OpenOffice Online Tutorials and Training

<http://www.learnopenoffice.org/>

OpenOffice is one of the coolest things to come along in a long time. It's powerful, flexible and its free. Even though OpenOffice is free, you will need to invest some time learning it. OpenOffice is a fantastic program but, like any other program, it will take a while to learn. This site provides comprehensive, web based training for OpenOffice. These OpenOffice tutorials will teach you everything you need to know to become an OpenOffice guru in just an hour or two. To make the learning process as efficient as

KnightCite - Online Citation Generator

<http://www.calvin.edu/library/knightcite/index.php>

KnightCite is an online citation generator service provided by the Hekman Library of Calvin College. This service simplifies the often tedious task of compiling an accurate bibliography in the appropriate style by formatting the given data on a source into a reliable citation, eliminating the need to memorize minute details of style for multiple kinds of sources. The service is provided free of charge by the college, and is available to members both within and outside of the Calvin community. There is no advertising on the site, and those who choose to register on the site will have the option of saving all of their citations and even multiple bibliographies to their account. KnightCite is unique in that it can generate citations for the three main academic citation styles: Modern Language Association (MLA), American Psychological Association (APA), or Chicago Manual of Style. Print or electronic resources may be cited, as well as a wide variety of others (particularly in the MLA style) ranging from sacred texts to cartoons. Users may save all of their citations for a given project and instantly alphabetize or edit them. Citations in one bibliography can be copied into another. When a bibliography is complete, the program can export it into an rtf or word document with the appropriate

China's Censorship 2.0: How Companies Censor Bloggers by Rebecca MacKinnon

<http://firstmonday.org/htbin/cgiwrap/bin/ojs/index.php/fm/article/view/2378>

Abstract:

This study explores an under-studied layer of Chinese Internet censorship: how Chinese Internet companies censor user-generated content, usually by deleting it or preventing its publication. Systematic testing of Chinese blog service providers reveals that domestic censorship is very decentralized with wide variation from company to company. Test results also showed that a great deal of politically sensitive material survives in the Chinese blogosphere, and that chances for its survival can likely be improved with knowledge and strategy. The study concludes that choices and actions by private individuals and companies can have a significant impact on the overall balance of freedom and control in the Chinese blogosphere.
